Dunn's Booting Takes the First Home Game From Ursinus.

Ursinus lost the first home game on Patterson Field to the strong and well trained Wyoming Seminary team by the score of 14 to 12.

Reiff, the Ursinus half back, kicked off to Haston, who received the ball on the ten yard line and returned it 15 yards. Wyoming gained only 5 yards on a series of line kicks and end runs, losing the ball to Ursinus. Here Ursinus outplayed the visitors and on several line plunges by Kichline and a twelve-yard run around right end by Kennedy, the first touchdown of the game was scored by Ursinus. Reiff failed at the goal.

Wyoming also scored in this period. On a penalty by Ursinus and a fumble by Kennedy, aided by a beautifully executed forward pass, Miller to Strunk, the latter dashed 5 yards for a touchdown. Dunn kicked the goal, ending the quarter. Score, Wyoming 7, Ursinus 6.

The second period produced no change in the score. Ursinus outplayed her opponents in this quarter, having three first downs to Wyoming's one, but a fumble by Schaub on the ten-yard line robbed Ursinus of another possible touchdown. Kennedy returned a punt 25 yards in this period and Dunn, of the visitors, made good gains around the ends. Ursinus again forged to the front in the third quarter and gained the lead by another touchdown. The home team brought the ball within striking distance of Wyoming's goal on runs by Reiff, Gingrich and Kichline, but another fumble lost the ball to Wyoming on the 12-yard line. Schaub threw Miller for a 3-yard loss and on the next play, Kerr blocked Miller's forward pass, and Gingrich leaping into the air, caught the ball and dashed 5 yards for the goal. Reiff missed the goal by a few feet.

In the last three minutes of play the visitors scored their second touchdown, due to a series of nicely executed plays which bewildered the home team. Two forward passes, Miller to Evans for 15 yards, and Dunn to Haston for 20 yards, brought the ball on the 20-yard line. On an old-time criss-cross play, which had worked for a big gain in the first quarter, Evans took the ball within two feet of the goal line. Miller took the ball

A Million Dollar Memorial to Dr. Schaff.

A great inter-denominational movement has been inaugurated and is now well on its way, to erect a building to be a home for inter-church, civic and other philanthropic agencies. It is to be called the Philip Schaff Memorial Building, in honor of the great advocate of the reunion of Christendom.

The place of the building is a centrally located site in the city of Philadelphia. It will be thirteen stories in height and will have an auditorium on the ground floor with a capacity for 1100 people. The total cost is to be $1,100,000, of which about $400,000 has been provided. The balance is to be raised by subscription.

Students and alumni of Ursinus will watch with interest the progress of this movement because of the identity of interests which Dr. Schaff had with persons connected with this college. In a sense, he may be considered one of us.

Dr. Schaff came to this country on the personal invitation of a committee sent by the Synod of the Reformed Church to Europe. For twenty years he was professor in the Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church, then at Mercersburg, Pa. Later on he became professor in the Union Theological Seminary, New York. Schaff Literary Society was named in honor of Dr. Schaff and there are doubtless those on our faculty now who could recount many interesting personal reminiscences concerning him.

No fitter memorial than that which is proposed could be erected to one who literally gave his life to the great task of welding closer together the various denominations of the Protestant Church.

Miss Ferree, '14, spent Wednesday in Doylestown, attending the wedding of a friend.

A large marble shaft upon which will be placed a sundial was delivered at the college on Thursday. The sundial is the gift of the class of 1911.

A very enjoyable social was given on Saturday evening by the C. E. Society of Trinity church at which about sixty of the students were present.

At a recent meeting of the Student Senate it was decided to make all meetings open to the student body and to publish the results of all the Senate's deliberations.

Tuesday will be Gala Day.

The inauguration of Dr. Omwake on Tuesday gives promise of being one of the most notable events ever held at Ursinus. More than fifty institutions of learning have signified their intention of having delegates in attendance.

The academic procession will form on the walk leading from Sprankle hall to Olevian hall. Headed by an escort of students it will proceed down the main avenue to Main street, up Main street to the walk leading to Bomberger hall and from thence up the walk to Bomberger hall, where the public exercises of the day will be held. The reception in the evening by Dr. and Mrs. Omwake will be one of the most delightful features of the day's program. No formal invitations have been issued to this reception, but it is understood that all the visiting guests, townspeople, alumni, students and friends are invited to be present.

CALENDAR.

Monday, October 6: 7 p. m., meeting of Athletic Committee, Bomberger hall.

Tuesday, October 7: Inaugural exercises.

Thursday, October 9: 7.00 p. m., meeting of Classical group.

Friday, October 10: Literary Societies.

Saturday, October 10: football, Varsity vs. Brown University at Providence, R. I.

Slonaker, ex-'12, was among the bleachers at the Ursinus-Wyoming game on Saturday.

At a mass meeting of the student body on Thursday evening, Minich, '15, was elected secretary of the Athletic Association. Small, '14, and Deininger, '15, were elected members of the nominating committee.

New Students at Ursinus.

The Freshman class at this time numbers about forty-three. This number will probably be increased by several, by the time this issue of the WEEKLY appears. As is usually the case, by far the largest number of the new students come from Pennsylvania, though New Jersey, Connecticut and Maryland are also represented.

Miles Howeth Austerberry, Trappe, Pa.; Wm. Frank Bedenk, Mansfield, Pa.; John H. A. Bomberger, 2d, Norristown, Pa.; Chas. Edwin Boyer, Loyallton, Pa.; Wayne Allen Brown, Boyertown, Pa.; Amy Edna Butler, Collegeville, Pa.; Jacob Henry Clark, Bridgeton, N. J.; Clifton V. Cross, Naugatuck, Conn.; Thomas G. Dietz, Bangor, Pa.; Mabel Jane Faulkner, Cape May, N. J.; Gratia Cobb Furman, Norristown, Pa.; J. A. M. Billman, '12, professor in the Protestant Syrian College at Beirut, Syria, spent the Summer traveling through the Holy Land. Mr. Billman made many of his journeys on foot, and he writes of many interesting places visited. He returned to Beirut about October 1.

S. S. Laucks, '10, has registered for the law course in the law department of the University of Pennsylvania. After being graduated from Ursinus, Mr. Laucks took a post-graduate course in Columbia University, at which place he held a fellowship. Last year he filled the chair of Political Science at Syracuse University.

EDITORIAL

The work of remodeling and improving the dormitories, which was launched in the Spring and has been carried on throughout the Summer, is still in progress, and it will be some time yet before the work is entirely finished. In the meantime, the east wing, henceforth to be known as Derr Hall, and Freeland Hall, are being occupied by students.

While the work of remodeling is not yet completed, it is not yet too early to say something about the care of the dormitory buildings.

While the students were living in the old dormitories there was very little incentive to the proper care of the buildings. The idea seemed to prevail, wrong though it undoubtedly was, that the furniture and property in general, was not worth taking care of, and consequently very little care was taken of them. This year conditions are changed. The rooms are not only comfortable, but they are attractive as well. The furniture is good and much of it is practically new.

With electric lighting throughout the buildings and baths on all the floors, the conveniences are all that could be desired.

It now remains for the persons living within these buildings to preserve them and to exercise proper conduct within the corridors and rooms. Water throwing, which in former years seemed to be a favorite pastime among the students, should be strictly tabooed within the buildings. The newly painted woodwork and the plastering and papering will soon become unsightly if certain restrictions are not observed. The plea cannot now be made that the dormitories are not worth taking care of. Most of the buildings have floor committees, or other bodies of a similar nature, whose duties are to see that order is maintained, and also to see that the furniture and property are not illy used. Now is the time, above all others, when these committees should be alert and conscious of their duties.

But after all we believe it is largely a matter of individual principle. All the rules that can be formulated will have but little effect unless there is the conscious feeling of moral obligation. We do not believe that there will be any need for rules, for surely the improved conditions should be sufficient incentive for every one of the students to take pride in his surroundings, and should deter any one from willfully or maliciously defacing the walls or damaging the buildings in any way. No code of rules for the guidance of our conduct was laid down by the board at the opening of the college this year, though it was generally believed among the students that there would be such rules laid down. This attitude on the part of the board is doubtless due to the belief that the better conditions now existing would prompt a sense of responsibility and that the fellows occupying the rooms would, without any outside coercion, keep the rooms in proper order. It is now up to us to justify their confidence.

Y. M. C. A.

"The value of Y. M. C. A. to a college man" was the subject of Boyer's talk in the meeting Wednesday evening. He based his remarks on the verse in Paul's first letter to the Corinthians: "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong."

He said in part: A common conception of Christianity, as held by many people, is that it is a religion for weaklings. However, the devotion and lives of prominent men in public activity refute this contention.

Athletics attempt to develop the physical part of man; education, the intellectual; Christianity aims to produce perfect manhood. Perfect manhood consists not in strength of body, not in the imitation of an ideal which we may choose from our acquaintances, but in moral courage and stability of character. Paul has given to the world the secret of moral courage, "stand fast in the faith."

All this applies to our subject, because the Y. M. C. A. will provide the necessary training to equip a college student with the weapons for his warfare against sin as he meets it in college, and later, in the world outside.

Y. W. C. A.
 The first regular meeting of Y. W. C. A., on Tuesday evening, was devoted to a report of the delegates to the Summer Conference at Eaglesmere. There was a good turnout, and the meeting seemed to be an auspicious beginning for the work of the new year.

Misses Peters and Kern, our two delegates, gave interesting and enthusiastic reports of their ten days' experience at Eaglesmere. Miss Kern first spoke about the nature and the spirit of the conference, outlining the daily routine and giving us a general idea of the place itself, the delegates, the teachers, etc. Miss Peters followed with a review of the lectures given in the auditorium. Among the many prominent and inspiring speakers were Dr. Thomas White, of the University of Indiana, Miss Stephens, of London University, Miss Victor, of Budapest University, Hungary, Miss Corbett, Student Secretary for New England, and Dr. Robert Speer, of New York city.

That the scholastic standing of Ursinus needs no apologies is evidenced by the fact that S. R. Detwiler, ex. '16 not only entered the Senior class at Yale from the Junior class here, but in addition was, a few days ago, appointed assistant instructor in the Biological department.

across the line on the next play and Dunn kicked the goal. Final score, Wyoming 14, Ursinus 12.

Ursinus had several chances to score, but fumbled at critical periods. Ursinus was penalized 6 times for a total of 50 yards, while Wyoming only erred twice for a total of 10 yards.

The visitors were under the direction of Quay, an old Ursinus star of 1910 and 1911. The line-up:

Kerr	Centre	Perkins
Cross	Right Guard	Bowman
Gingrich	Right Tackle	Gerges
Bedenk	Right End	Brominsky
Kennedy	Quarter	Haston
Reiff	Right Half	Miller
Caskey	Full Back	Eyrick

Referee—Hoskins, Lafayette. Umpire—Greene, Syracuse. Head linesman—MacAdam. Substitutes—Ursinus, Schaub for Caskey; Light for Bedenk. Time of quarters—10 minutes. Touchdowns: Kennedy, Gingrich, Miller and Strunk. Goals from touchdowns: Dunn, 2.

Schaff Picks Cast for Anniversary

The anniversary committee of Schaff Society has already selected a play and named the cast which will participate in its production at the anniversary exercises of the society, on the last Friday evening before the Christmas vacation. Last year Shakespeare's "Othello" was given in a manner which probably eclipsed anything ever before attempted at Ursinus by a cast composed entirely of students. The play which has been chosen for this year is Richard III, another of Shakespeare's dramas. The following persons are included in the cast:

Richard III, Light; Richmond and Clarence, Gingrich; Queen Anne, Miss Sabold; Queen Elizabeth, Miss Hallman; Queen Margaret, Miss Hanson; duchess, Miss Ferree; first murderer and mayor, Yeatts; second murderer Tryrel, Hoover; Blount and Rivers, Myers; Henry II, Small; Eli-Dorsic, Singley; Catsby, Johnson; Buckingham, Elicker; Hashings and Norfolk, Rumbaugh; Edward VI, Smith; Radclif and Brankenburg, Gebhard; officer and Stanley, Vogel.

Mitterling Lost to Varsity.

Ralph Mitterling, '15, right halfback on the Varsity eleven was sent to bed in the early part of the week with blood poisoning, the result of a blister raised on his foot during football practice. Dr. Corson was summoned and has been since treating the foot. Mitterling is out of danger and is doing nicely but it will be some time before the plucky halfback will be back in the game.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Schaff.

The program rendered in Schaff on Friday evening was an unusual one for this time of the year and was enjoyed by all present. The musical numbers deserve special mention. The program follows: Instrumental solo, Miss Boorem; essay, "Our Favorite Songs," Miss Sigafos; original story, Gebhard; monologue, Hoover; trio, Misses Klein, Boorem and Detwiler; reading, "An Irish Peasant's Home," Miss Sabold; "Schaff Vacation Snapshots," Elicker; reading, "A Harvard-Yale Football Game," Gobrecht; humorous reading, Beltz; vocal solo, Small; comic reading, Rutledge; Gazette, Yeatts.

Under voluntary exercises Miss Davenport favored the society with a few words.

Harry Kehm, '17, of York, was welcomed as a member into the society.

Zwinglián.

The principal feature of the program given in Zwinglián on Friday evening was a debate on the question: "Resolved, that the introduction of free trade would promote greater commercial activity." Mr. Fink, Mr. Kell and Mr. Davidheiser spoke on the affirmative side while Mr. Glendenning, Mr. Heller and Mr. Eby upheld the negative. Both sides debated ably and forcefully. The decision of the judges and that of the house was in favor of the affirmative.

The rest of the program consisted of a vocal solo by Mr. Pritchard, a piano solo by Miss Wist and the Zwinglián Review by Mr. Thena.

The society was pleased to welcome into active membership Mr. Stugart and Mr. Adams.

"Mandy" Roth, '08, is employed in the Civil Service of the United States and is now stationed in the Philippines.
