DR. OMWAKE INAUGURATED.

More Than Fifty Representatives of Institutions of Higher Learning Together with Well-known Business Men, Alumni and Students Participated in Inauguration of Ursinus' New Head.

An epoch marking event was the inauguration of Dr. Geo. Leslie Omwake as the seventh President of Ursinus College. Tuesday, October 7, the day set apart for the celebration of this event, witnessed the largest number of prominent educators and representatives of schools of all grades that has ever assembled on the campus at one time.

While the Pottstown Band was giving a morning concert on the campus, representatives of schools and colleges, alumni, and friends, were gathering and forming for the Academic procession.

The students, marching by groups, formed the escort, and were followed in order by the retiring president and the new president, the directors, speakers and delegates, the faculty and the alumni.

At eleven o'clock the Academic procession moved down the main avenue to the street and thence to the path leading to Bomberger Hall. The varied robes of the learned doctors in the procession gave a pleasing effect of color and dignity.

After the singing of the hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," by the students, the Scriptures were read and prayer was offered by Rev. James W. Meminger, D. D., '84.

Introductory remarks by Hon. Henry W. Kratz, Honorary President of the Board of Directors, were followed by the induction into office by Mr. H. E. Paisley, President of the Board of Directors. He handed over to the President-elect the charter, the seal and the keys of the college as representative of the power of the office.

At this time the retiring president, Rev. A. Edwin Kegwin, D. D., gave an address in which he spoke very touchingly of his love for and his confidence in his successor. This was followed by the Inaugural Address by Dr. Omwake.

The inaugural address was a scholarly and practical treatise on the work of a college president. Characteristic sentences follow: "When an educator ceases to be an optimist he ceases to be an educator." "If you find yourself lacking in devotion to your college, render it some service, and you will learn to love it." "The privilege of serving one's own college rises to a moral duty." The address contained the following very striking statement from the words of Prof. Ruby, "There can be no progress in this world, except by the clash of minds."

The address of the day was delivered by John Grier Hibben, Ph. D., LL. D., President of Princeton University. Sound pedagogy, magnificent scholarship and real practicability were combined in this address. His theme was "The Art of Seeing." Among many other very worthy sentiments were these: "The successful man must have the ability to see the future in the present. This faculty of inner vision is discrimination, a discerning judgment. The student must obtain a true vision of the values of life. We must teach students not only to see things as they are, but also to see them in their beauty."

Honorary degrees were conferred as follows: LL. D. upon Mr. Cyrus A. K. Curtis, of the Curtis Publishing Co., and Hon. Aaron S. Schwartz, Judge in Montgomery county; Sc. D. upon Prof. Anselm Vinet Hiester, A. M., of Franklin and Marshall college; Lit. D. upon Mr. John Thompson, Librarian of the Free Library of Philadelphia, and Prof. Whorten A. Kline, A. M., B. D., Dean of the College; D. D. upon Rev. George Handy Wailes, A. M., Professor of Greek, Ursinus College.

Distinguished Speakers Heard in the Afternoon.

The afternoon exercises opened at 2 o'clock, with a concert by the band. At 2:40 President Omwake introduced the first speaker of the afternoon. All the speakers brought the well wishes of the institutions which they represented.

The first speaker was Chancellor Samuel Black M'Cornick, D. D., LL. D., of the University of Pittsburgh, who spoke in behalf of the College presidents' Association of Pennsylvania.

He said in part: "To be a president of any college in our modern days is no easy undertaking, for it calls for the expenditure of all one's energy in the fulfillment of duty. A college president must be scholarly, executive and a man of affairs.

Our present day problems require leaders which the college must furnish. A College must be conservative enough to hold to the very best in the past and still progressive enough to look toward the future.

"Life is worth just as much as it is played."

"The keynote of the college today is efficiency."

Joseph Swain LL. D., President of Swarthmore college, spoke in behalf of the National Educational Association.

Several remarks worth remembering were as follows: "We live in a civilization which draws students to the higher colleges and universities. The man who undertakes to build a small college must have a strong conviction of the principles upon which it stands.

The college stands for the development of manhood and womanhood or the upbuilding of good character.

In a large college a student goes thru more college, whereas, in a small college more college goes thru a student.

The Alumni of Ursinus were represented by Philip H. Fogel, Ph. D., 'or, of Princeton University. The subject of his discourse was "Loyalty." He called for the loyal support of all Alumni in the new administration, closing his remarks with the sentence, "Loyalty is service."

George Morris Phillips, Ph. D., LL. D., principal of the West Chester State Normal School, spoke of the progress college graduates are making in the teaching profession. He urged a preparation in college that would develop those branches of activity which graduates desire to enter.

Head Master of Mercersburg Academy, William M. Irvine, Ph. D., LL. D., spoke on behalf of the academics. He was very witty and his remarks were largely personal. He urged the continuance of calling the heroic out of every boy, teaching the spirit of chivalry. His closing sentence came as a benediction upon the head of Dr. Omwake who, at one time, was his pupil. "May God bless you, my boy, this day."

Henry H. Apple, D. D., LL. D., President of Franklin and Marshall College, spoke on behalf of the colleges. In his address he urged the maintenance of the classics in the curriculum, the introduction of the elements, at least, of science, and the recognition of the physical problems of the young men.

The closing address was given by Edgar Fahs Smith, Sc. D., LL. D., Provost of the University of Pennsylvania. He said in part: The crying need among us today is that we do not think. Let Ursinus College adopt a curriculum of study admitting the widest horizon and then permit the students to do the work. A student should have the proper regard for the word "must."

Introduction of delegates followed.

EDITORIAL

The inauguration of the new President of Ursinus, last Tuesday, was an event which marks an epoch in the history of our institution. Probably never before has there been such a galaxy of men and women, eminent for scholarship and achievement, assembled at one time on our campus. The exercises throughout were marked with a dignity simple but impressive, and the whole event may truly be characterized as a red-letter day for Ursinus.

No one having heard the inspiring addresses of such men as Dr. Hibben, Dr. McCormick, Dr. Swain and others of the visitors, as well as that of President Omwake, can help feeling that Ursinus is entering upon a new era, that we as an institution are standing in the dawn of better and larger opportunities for achievement.

Though Dr. Omwake was only on Tuesday, formally inducted into his high office, he has for a number of years actually borne the responsibilities devolving upon the head of the institution, and he is not assuming duties new or in any way strange to him. The WEEKLY wishes, most heartily, to congratulate Dr. Omwake and to assure him that he has the good wishes of every student in the institution. In the words of one of the speakers on Tuesday—may your administration be as successful as those of us who know you best expect.

Two movings took place during the week. Dr. Tower, of the Philosophy Department, moved into the house on Main street, vacated by Mrs. Neff. Coach Price occupied the upper side of the Allebach residence.

Reception a Big Success.

The President's reception on Tuesday evening came as an appropriate ending to one of the most impressive days Ursinus students have ever been privileged to experience.

The pleasant reception rooms in Freeland Hall, decorated with pictures, pennants, banners, plants and flowers, presented a gay and festive appearance. President and Mrs. Omwake received in the large room to the left of the entrance, and were assisted by Mr. Harry E. Paisley, President of the Board of Directors, Mrs. Paisley, and Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Gresh, of Norris-town.

As but few of our distinguished guests of the day were able to remain for the evening, the reception was almost a distinctively college affair. Altogether, about two hundred guests, chiefly students and townspeople, were present during the course of the evening. Notable among those present was our highly esteemed former professor, Dr. Holzworth, now of Smith College, and sent here as a delegate from that institution.

Altogether, the reception was most enjoyable, and helped to foster afresh that sympathy which must exist between our newly inaugurated President and the students,—in fact, all who are interested in the school—if Ursinus College is to succeed in the future.

Dr. Wailes Addresses Joint Meeting of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Wailes addressed the joint meeting of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday evening, giving a very practical and helpful talk on "Christ in Our Everyday Life." He based his address on John XXI, the story of Christ's third appearance to the disciples after the resurrection.

Like the disciples, he said, we are prone to think of the risen Christ as an exalted being, far above, and remote from, our lives. As a matter of fact, He comes to us to-day, even as He lived, as a man among men, a fellow-worker, interested in our every thought and action. He is anxious to help us; and if we would truly succeed we must let Him be our partner in all that we undertake, even in apparently trifling things. Good as our intentions may be, by ourselves we are weak; but if we look to Him for our ideal and inspiration, He will give us power to realize that ideal.

The trend of the best social and economic thought of to-day is more and more toward the recognition and acceptance of the Sermon on the Mount as the truest and highest standard of life.

The meeting was quite well attended; but we feel sure that every student would feel repaid for coming out on such occasions.

BROWN GLAD FOR 6-0 SCORE

In a drizzling rain and a wet field Ursinus Held Cubs to a Single Score.

In the best form that Ursinus has shown this season, Brown University was held to a 6-0 score at Providence, R. I., on Saturday.

The only score of the game came when but four minutes of the last period remained to be played. For the first time, and the only time throughout the game, Brown's Cubs became dangerous. The forward pass from which little trouble was anticipated because of the wet condition of the field, and which had failed repeatedly during the earlier periods, was now twice worked successfully for long gains. These two passes, coming in quick succession, brought the ball from mid-field to Ursinus' 5-yard line. Here the defenders of the Red, Old Gold and Black held like a wall. Two downs failed to gain an inch; on the third, Brown was thrown for a two-yard loss; on the fourth, Casey found a hole in the Ursinus line and shot through like a catapult. He was pulled down within a yard of the goal line, but managed to squirm the ball over the line. Henry kicked out safe, but failed at a try for goal.

Ursinus' only chance to score came in the first quarter. On their own 5-yard line Brown was held for downs and was forced to kick. Kennedy received the ball in mid-field and from there it was advanced to Brown's 20-yard line. Here Ursinus was held for downs. Kennedy tried for a field goal, but missed by inches.

Although outweighed fully fifty-five pounds to the man, Ursinus had the cubs on the jump all the time, and in all but the last quarter outplayed them in every department of the game. Our men frequently broke through the Brown line and threw their men for losses. Kennedy was the individual star on the Ursinus team, and Seaman's getting down under punts was a noteworthy feature. Heller played his first big game, and did good work at tackle. For Brown, Casey and Bean starred.

Scrubs Defeat Bridgeton, 12-7.

The Ursinus Reserve team went to Bridgeton, N. J., on Saturday and played the High School of that town, which team is being coached by Chester Robbins, '13.

The game was called at 3 o'clock. Bridgeton kicked off. On the first scrimmage Ursinus fumbled and H. Clark of Bridgeton High, picked the ball up and ran for a touchdown. Garrison kicked the goal. Score: B. H., 7; Ursinus, 0. No more scoring was done in this quarter. In the second quarter, after a little scrimmage, McCarthy threw Brown a forward pass and Brown took it over for a touchdown. McCarthy missed the goal.

Ursinus scored again in the third quarter. After some hard scrimmaging McCarthy threw a forward pass to J. Clark, who ran 40 yards for the second touchdown. Sturgart tried for a goal but failed. After the second touchdown Bridgeton lost ground steadily both by fumbling and poor running, and lack of time alone prevented a larger score. Only 8 minute quarters were played.

Brown, Clark and Sellers in general play and Sturgart in punting starred for Ursinus. Garrison featured for Bridgeton. Final score, Ursinus 12—Bridgeton 7.

At a meeting of the Reserve football team on Saturday, Fisher, '14, was elected captain.

At a meeting of the Chemical-Biological Group held on Thursday evening, Sturgart, '16, was elected treasurer of the group.

"Keeping in Front"

You fellows know what that means! We've been very successful in this regard with Fatima Cigarettes. By the way, these cigarettes were first sold in the college towns—and you agreed with us that they were good.

Then we put out for the big race, to make Fatimas of nation-wide reputation, and today more are sold than any other cigarette in this country.

No purer, or more carefully chosen tobacco grows than that in Fatimas. We purposely put them in a plain inexpensive wrapper—in this way we can afford quality tobacco, and twenty of the smokes for 15 cents.

Now your college crews of utmost importance to you—so is a good cigarette, and it's your aim in life to keep Fatimas in the lead—right up to their good quality—right up to where you first found them, and will always find them.

Success fellows! You started this cigarette on its successful career—and you pull a strong oar all over this country.
