Drexel Finds Ursinus Boys Too Fleet
For Them and Lose
11 — 3.

The opening game of the baseball season was played on Pattreson Field Saturday, March 29. Drexel Institute was the opposing team. Many of the Alumni remained over from the Zwinglian anniversary and helped to make up the crowd which comfortably filled the grandstand. The temperature was too low for comfort in the stands or for fast work on the diamond.

The game began at 3:08 with Weller on the mound for Ursinus. In the first inning Drexel failed to score. For Ursinus, Kennedy walked, stole second, reached third on an error and scored on Mitterling's single. Mitterling stole second and scored on Norik's single. Norik soon crossed the plate with the third score.

ZWINGLIAN SOCIETY HOLDS ANNIVERSARY

Good Program Marks Forty-third Anniversary Exercises of the Society.

On Friday evening last the Zwinglian Literary Society rendered its forty-third anniversary program in Bomberger Hall to a large and appreciative audience. This is one of the important events in the society each year. The performers are selected, as nearly as possible, from the two upperclasses and the character of their work shows the value of a literary training.

The Schaff society entered in a body to a march played by Miss Rahm. This was followed by an invocation by Rev. Whorton A. Kilne, Dean of the college.

The salutatory oration was rendered by John K. Wetzel. He took for his subject "The Value of a Home," and treated it in a very pleasing manner. He spoke in part as follows:

"The progress of every great world movement has been studied and slow. The great landmarks of progress have not been achieved in a day. Especially is this true of the growth and decay in the social fabric of every people since the beginning of history. Neither aesthetic Greece nor militant Rome rose or fell in a day.

"The causes of our social reform are not mere caprices from without; the causes of our social degeneracy are not due primarily to external circumstances. On the contrary, they are infinitely more closely connected with life itself, and for this reason more subtle. The greatest and most enduring influences come from within the lives of people themselves, and the character which makes this influence possible is the result of good home training.

The next number, a reading by Miss Wagner, was very well rendered and the subject matter was of such a nature as to appeal strongly to the audience.

The piano duet by Miss Wiest and Mr. Robinson was enjoyed by all. This was followed by a declamation

GLEE CLUB PLEASURES CENTER POINT.

The glee club is keeping up its good work and never fails to please its audience. Last Saturday the club journeyed to Center Point and gave a concert in the town hall.

The hall was well filled and the concert was given in a very creditable manner notwithstanding the apparent impossibility of getting the club together the past week for rehearsal. Every number was encored, some of them the second time. The cartoon feature by Falsley, with Kantner and Gay as the "funmakers" is one of the most popular parts of the program.

MISS HINKLE WILL BE HERE.

Noted Soprano Booked for Annual Music Festival.

Music lovers of Montgomery county will rejoice to learn that Miss Florence Hinkle will appear at the spring music festival conducted by the college. Miss Hinkle is one of the best sopranos in the country today and we are to be congratulated in having secured her for this event.

Miss Hinkle is well known here at the college, having been the leading soloist two years ago. Last year she had been invited to appear again but at the last minute, because of an unavoidable detention, was compelled to send a substitute.

The rest of the soloists have not been definitely secured yet but we are assured that they will all be of the first class. A fuller announcement of the festival will appear in an early issue of the "Weekly."

Prof. Rapp will Get His Ph. D.

Professor Rapp of the department of Mathematics and Physics left on Saturday for the University of Chicago, where he has already done the major part of the work required for the Ph. D. degree. Professor Rapp expects to complete the required work by September when he will submit a thesis on the subject "The flow of air through Capillary Tubes." He will return to Collegeville in September to resume his duties on the faculty.

Some Good Tennis Promised.

For the first time in a number of years Ursinus will have some matches for her tennis devotees.

Ellicker, '14, has arranged a good schedule of games and it now remains for those who have ability in the sport to come out and get in shape for the coming contest.

ANOTHER ALUMNUS GOING UP.

S. S. Laucks, '10, Doing Things at Syracuse.

Under the caption "New Department of Public Library," the Syracuse Herald, of March 23, contains the following:

"A conference was held in the Mayor's office at the City Hall this morning between Professor S. S. Laucks of Syracuse University, Dr. E. W. Mundy, of the Syracuse Public Library, and City Engineer Henry C. Allen in regard to the establishment of a regular department of municipal research at the library.

Dr. Mundy has promised to set aside a special room in the library in which will be gathered all the books, pamphlets, etc., relating to municipal questions. The walls will be covered with maps and plates bearing upon municipal problems, and the room will be in charge of an attendant who has made a special study of work along the lines indicated.

Professor Laucks has made investigations in many cities. He intends during the current year to establish a department of political science at the university. He believes that the department in charge of the city will be a great aid to the university, and he said this morning that he thought the chancellor would be in favor of extending every possible assistance to the city in the project."

Professor Laucks is a graduate of Ursinus receiving his A. B. in 1910. Since then he has done work in the political science department of Columbia University. He was on the Ursinus Summer School faculty last year.

R. H. Vanderslice, of Boyertown, and T. A. Eock, of Spring City, of Ursinus men, are among the officers of a recently organized Schuylkill Valley Schoolmasters' Club.

EDITORIAL

With the current issue of the "Weekly" the new staff, elected recently, assumes control of the paper. We have taken up our news duties with mingled feelings of pleasure and diffidence. We are not insensible to the honor that has been conferred on us, nor to the expression of trust and confidence in our ability to maintain the high literary standard that has been achieved by our predecessors. Our only fear is that our abilities may have been over-rated and that we may not measure up to the ideals of our constituency.

We shall not outline a definite policy of conduct now, for we believe that a paper which seeks to serve its readers must change with ever changing conditions in which it is placed. There are, however, certain conditions which do not vary and these we shall endeavor to follow as fundamental principles.

We shall aim to represent every department of Ursinus activity, giving to each space as its importance shall warrant. To the alumni and friends beyond the campus we shall try to reflect the activities of the student body and from them we solicit such news as they think may be of interest to us here. In this way the "Weekly" will fulfill its most important function, namely, that of keeping fresh the interest in the college of those who have gone out into the larger world of affairs, and serving as a connecting link between them and their Alma Mater.

We invite criticism from what ever source, and though we may have pretty definite ideas about some things, we will always be ready to listen to advise. We understand that we do not own the paper. It is yours, and we are publishing it for you. Therefore, if you are not satisfied with the way it is being edited or if you see how it can be improved, give us your ideas. We do earnestly request, however, that your criticisms come to us direct. Don't tell others what you think, come and tell us. A great deal of criticism is destructive but not constructive. It never reaches the persons who would profit by it and hence it does not afford an opportunity to improve the conditions which provoked it.

Finally, we urgently request the co-operation of every person connected with the college. We may be able to get along without your help, but our ambition is higher than simply to "get along." We shall do better if we can feel that we have the assistance and sympathetic co-operation of each student, professor, director, alumnus and friend. When you have knowledge of an event which would be of interest to the readers of the "Weekly" communicate it to a member of the staff. So also, meetings which are restricted to certain groups of students may be overlooked unless some one is sufficiently concerned as to bring it to the attention of the editor or one of his associates.

Let us all consider ourselves responsible to a certain extent for the "Weekly," and so laboring together make it more representative of the college and improve it in every detail.

Y. M. C. A.

"Scripture Passages which Have Affected My Life," was the subject discussed at the meeting on Wednesday last. The leader, Mr. Hess, spoke in part as follows: All parts of the Bible are equally important and necessary to salvation. Still, regardless of the uniform equality of the Bible, there are some parts which fit our individual lives better than others.

An excellent exhibition of faith is given by Christ in John 14:1-3. This should prove to us the certainty of his second coming, and serve to increase our faith. In Cor. 15:53-55 we can rejoice in learning that death has been swallowed up in victory, and that all things are subservient to the will of our Father. In John 3:16 we have an expression of the fullness of God's love toward man. The measure of his love was the giving of his son to be crucified. All criticism of the Bible may be answered by the reference in Rev. 22:18-19.

Messrs. Wetzel, Mertz, Singley, Rumbaugh, Small, Deininger and rot. Hirsch spoke.

At the business meeting which followed the regular meeting, the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mr. Small, '14.
Vice-president, Mr. Singley, '15.
Secretary, Mr. Hoover, '16.
Treasurer, Mr. Heller, '14.
Musical Director, Mr. Yeatts, '16.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A dozen or more students heard Professor Joll's choir from Bethany Temple, Philadelphia, give a musical program in the Lower Providence Presbyterian church, last Tuesday evening.

Much indignation is being felt and expressed by the University of Pennsylvania students because professional speculators bought up the tickets for the Mask and Wig production. It is claimed that these "Gentlemen of the Trade" were in waiting for three days previous to the opening of the sale of tickets and as a result the students are denied the opportunity of purchasing tickets.

ZWINGLIAN ANNIVERSARY.

by Mr. Boyer. The subject matter and interpretation were alike excellent. Special mention must be made of the care exercised in the preparation of this number.

The essay by Miss Hain in an instructive and orderly manner discussed "The Motion Picture and Its Future." Attention was called to its present immoral effect on youthful minds, which are especially susceptible to emotions. Their influence should be rather for good, and should have an educational value akin to our public libraries. By proper regulation they may teach civic righteousness, social reform and be an aid to invention.

One of the most pleasing musical numbers of the evening was the vocal duet by Misses Fisher and Snyder.

Zwinglian oration, "Responsibility of Citizenship," was given by Mr. Yoh. He discussed the advancement of the human race up to the present time. To each individual is given certain liberties which in turn bring certain responsibilities. The duty of each man is to develop himself and assist in the development of his neighbor. If each member of society would meet these obligations we would have an ideal world. Man's great responsibility lies in the casting of his ballot in an intelligent manner.

The last number on the program was a mixed quartette by Misses Fisher and Wagner and Messrs. Yoh and Pritchard. This was followed by a reception during which time everyone enjoyed themselves. Refreshments were served.

Nevin F. Gutshall, 1903, was one of the speakers at the dedication exercises of the new $20,000 Odd Fellows Hall in Lewistown a few days ago. Mr. Gutshall is a member of the order and his subject was "The Social and Religious Side of Odd Fellowship."

Mr. Gutshall, who is a member of the Lewistown town council has been appointed chairman of a committee to secure data and plans for the establishment of a municipally owned water plant. At a banquet given this week by the Penn Central Light & Power Company to the newspaper men and town council of Lewistown, Mr. Gutshall delivered an address, filling a double role, that of councilman and newspaper editor.

Marlin Big Game REPEATING RIFLES

The Special Smokeless Steel barrel, rifled deep on the Ballard system, creates perfect combustion, develops highest velocity and hurls the bullet with utmost accuracy and mightiest killing impact.

The mechanism is direct-acting, strong, simple and perfectly adjusted. It never clogs. The protecting wall of solid steel between your head and cartridge keeps rain, sleet, snow and all foreign matter from getting into the action. The slide ejection throws shells away from line of sight and allows instant repeat shots always. New .33-caliber now ready. Built in perfect proportion throughout, in many high power calibres, it is a quick handling, powerful, accurate gun for all big game.

Every hunter should know all the Marlin characteristics. The Marlin Firearms Co. Send for our free catalog. Enclose 3 stamps for postage. 42 Willow Street New Haven, Conn.

If you shoot a rifle, pistol or shotgun, you should have a copy of the Ideal Hand Book—100 pages of useful information for shooters. It tells all about powders, bullets, primers and reloading tools for all standard rifle, pistol and shotgun ammunition; how to measure powders accurately; shows you how to cut your ammunition expense in half and do more and better shooting. This book is free to any shooter who will send three stamps postage to The Marlin Firearms Co., 42 Willow St., New Haven, Conn.
