MISS CLAMER ENTERTAINS

On Wednesday evening Miss May Clamer entertained the members of the Phi Alpha Psi and a number of invited guests at her home on Main St., Collegeville. Miss Clamer is an honorary member of the Club, and each year it is her custom to have the members and their friends at her house for an evening of pleasure.

Miss Clamer was assisted by her mother in receiving the guests, and soon afterward all present were engaged in games and contests of various kinds, which furnished opportunities for the display of knowledge and talent. Miss E. Austerberry and Mr. Dunseath proved themselves most capable and received the favors.

At a seasonable hour the company adjourned to the dining room, where a fine luncheon was served. After this a short time was devoted to the terpsichorean art, and those who partake in this pleasing pastime were given an opportunity to indulge their whim.

Many are the expressions of appreciation from those who were the participants in the evening's pleasures, and all unite in extending to Miss Clamer their sincere thanks for an event that will not soon be forgotten.

BIG CIRCUS IN PHILADELPHIA

Announcement is made that during the week of May 2, the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth will visit Philadelphia. This is the best news of the day to those who are fond of circus form of amusement. For forty-five years this has been the leading show of the world. This year it comes forth with an entire new equipment which cost the management $3,500,000.

The main performance is given in three rings, on two stages, on an immense Roman race track and in the dome. The climax of the program is the appalling performance of Desperado, a mad Frenchman, who leaps from the dome of the tent and lands on his bare chest. Additional thrills are given by Jupiter a pure white Arabian horse. It rides to the dome of the tent in a balloon and descends amid a Niagara of exploding rockets and fireworks.

On the list of performers are the names of 400 of the world's most talented artists. The new parade is a marvel of interest. It is a panorama of a thousand wonders. Here is an opportunity for the students to see the greatest circus ever organized.

Y. M. C. A.

The subject for discussion at the regular meeting Wednesday evening was, "Christ In the Storm." The leader, L. M. Lauer read the account of Jesus' day of healing and his stormy voyage across the sea of Galilee after which he spoke in part as follows: We can get a very practical lesson from this incident in our Saviour's life. We are all on the sea of life. It is well to have Christ with us. Sometimes we think he has forgotten us when the storms of life threaten but if we only ask he will help us. There is a lesson of faith in this experience of the disciples. They had faith enough to ask Jesus to calm the waves. We need to have faith in His ability to help us in our battles.

Vice-President Omwake is confined to his home with neuralgia and a nervous breakdown brought on by overwork. His condition is not critical but upon the advice of his physician he will refrain from any work and take an absolute rest.

BASEBALL TRIP

Ursinus Makes Excellent Showing on Annual Spring Journey to Cumberland Valley

After one of the most successful trips ever made by an Ursinus team through the Cumberland Valley, the team returned with the scalps of Gettysburg and Dickinson hanging in their belts, and the Mercersburg game lost by a single run. As in the case of the Princeton-Ursinus game, these games were attended by close scores. Had Ursinus been fortunate enough to possess the services of an experienced or steady shortstop, we would have to our credit but a single defeat in the games thus far played and a clean sweep on the trip. Ever since the season opened, it has been apparent that Ursinus lacked what she has heretofore been fortunate to have, a steady and dependable shortstop. Last year, Romeo, a great fielder, filled the position well, and before that Snyder for four years killed hits that went that way. But Coach Price has looked in vain for a Snyder or Romeo and his eyes have grown dim in the search. At Princeton this position cost us the game, and at Mercersburg, a total of six errors at that position killed our chances. Slonaker's work, after being placed there, was a great improvement and it is hoped better results will follow from now on. So much for the weak end of the games.

The work of the team otherwise was highly commendable and of much better form than the earlier performances. In the Mercersburg game, with a pitcher who never before pitched a first team game, the team showed life and ginger and held the well balanced Mercersburg team at bay until an error at shortstop upset our chances and Mercersburg got away with the game in the ninth inning by the score of five to four. Starr's playing at 3rd base was easily the feature of this game.

At Gettysburg with Palmer pitching and Slonaker at shortstop, a better game was played, one error being all that was charged to us. Here Ursinus showed better batting strength and massed nine hits, one of which was a home run drive from the bat of Kichline, whose batting in this game was good.

Palmer showed a wild streak in the 7th passing one and hitting two men. Horten was called to the rescue and retired the Gettysburg team in one, two, three order during the last two innings. Kerr Thompson made his advent in this game and the big fellow signaled his initial appearance with a hit, a base on balls and two stolen bases.

The best game of the series was played at Dickinson. Although the new Dickinson field was in poor shape, a great game resulted. Horten, Ursinus' premier pitcher was in grand shape and Dickinson secured but two clean hits. With clockwork regularity he moved down the Dickinson heavy hitters and at the bat drove out a scorching three bagger. Dickinson's one run was the result of a hit, sacrifice and an error in centre field. For Ursinus, several opportunities to score were lost; they having men on second and third three times with one or none out but failing to score. However, the worm will generally turn and the third time with Kichline on third and Isenberg on second, Edwards threw wild and two runs resulted. In this game the feature was Horten's pitching, while Isenberg played a fine game at second base.

The most encouraging feature of the three games was the base running of the entire team and this bids fair to be a feature of the Ursinus games this year. Much of the credit for the excellent showing of the team is due to the efforts of Coach Price who has succeeded in developing what promises to be one of the best teams in our history from material that was, with a few exceptions, very unpromising. The scores follow:

EDITORIAL

On last Tuesday evening a mass meeting of the students was held to discuss the institution of student government at Ursinus. Many opinions on the advisability of a movement of this kind were offered by the students and in most instances the speakers were in favor of student government. An action was taken requesting the different classes to appoint members to serve on a committee to investigate the different forms of student government, and to report their findings at a later date.

This is a step in the right direction. It must be evident to all who are interested in the welfare of the institution, that something of this kind is necessary if we wish to correct the many distasteful habits that are practiced here today. What we want to do is to create a sentiment among the students that will not tolerate a man who will persist in destroying and defacing college property. Many are the complaints that are heard about our inadequate accommodations and poor buildings, yet the very students who do the most complaining make no effort to preserve the property that we have, but seem rather to bend their efforts toward the destruction of it. Our dormitories suffer most at the hands of these destructive miscreants. No right thinking, responsible student will deliberately smash window panes and sash, break lamps and furniture, and surely some form of student organization is necessary to restrain such weaklings in their childish practices. The man who finds such great pleasure in hurling water bags from the windows of the dormitories at anyone who is unfortunate enough to be within range, should be taken in hand and be shown the error of his ways. This is one of the most cowardly practices in which any one can engage and the frequency of its occurrence is to be deplored. The student who does not have enough pride in the appearance of our campus to refrain from throwing paper, tin cans and other rubbish promiscuously about, should be made to feel the responsibility that rests upon him in the preservation of our grounds. Those who take the library for a public play ground should be subdued by the restraining hand of student authority. Students should be made to show the proper respect and deference for the members of the faculty and the officers of the college. Influence should be brought to bear upon the inactive members of the student-body, so that they would take an interest in the activities of the college. Some of the students were not enough interested to come out to the mass meeting on Tuesday night. Such students certainly displayed a woeful lack of interest. If student government will rid us of these unpleasant features, by all means let us have it.

Our attitude of omitting from our editorial columns "family affairs," has been criticized on the ground that there is no other way by which the students can get their opinions before the faculty. Student government in some form would be a solution of this evil. It has worked with reasonable success in many institutions of our class, and should at least be worth trying at Ursinus. The faculty has shown an attitude favorable to it, but it is "up to" the students to take the initiative. The solving of the problem, we hope, will drive away the cloud of monarchy which overshadows us and free us from the grasp of anarchy which now enfolds us.

SOCIETY NOTES

ZWINGLIAN

Zwinglian digressed from the usual order of procedure last Friday evening and gave an impromptu program. It was unique in that it differed from the ordinary program, interesting because it kept all members on the "anxious bench" and timely, as the baseball team was absent from college and the Glee Club just recovering from its New York gayeties.

The musical numbers consisted of an Instrumental Duet by Miss Fisher and Wagner; a Vocal Solo by Quay; an Instrumental Duet by Misses Hain and Fisher and a

Fielders' Gloves and Mitts

Some of the one-hand stops made by the big league fielders are most sensational—ten years ago they would have been deemed impossible. The great secret of perfect fielding lies not only in ability, but in the right gloves and mitts. Reach Fielders' Gloves and Mitts are perfect. Their superiority is evident through use by such star players as Wagner, Cobb, Lajoie, Collins, Crawford, Magee and Keeler.

Also used by well-known college players.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held on Tuesday evening at 6.40 p. m. The topic for the evening was: "Wanted—A Woman." Rev. E. A. Bawden, of Royersford, gave a most excellent address on the subject. He took for the scripture lesson, Prov. 31; 10-31. The substance of his talk was as follows:

This is a day when woman's sphere is becoming a question of growing interest. It is woman's sphere to complement or supplement the sphere of man. Where man is lacking in his strength and power, there is woman more efficient. The most descriptive of words for women is "beautiful." If she possesses only physical beauty she is not as beautiful as she should be, but her character must also bear the marks of distinction. Woman is distinguished for her attractive element, her charity, kindness, love, winsomeness, tenderness, etc.

THE MEDICO-CHIRURGICAL COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA
Affords Unusual Opportunities for the Study of Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutic Chemistry

If your chosen profession is along these lines no better preparation for it can be had than at this College. It is advisable for every young man to investigate the merits and facilities of The Medico-Chirurgical College before he decides definitely upon any particular one.

The faculty consistently maintains a reputation for ability and modern methods of teaching. The College is situated in the midst of a large manufacturing district. The hospital and accident cases from this source are extensive and varied in character, and with the largest and finest Clinical Amphitheatre in the world afford unsurpassed clinical facilities. The buildings are modern and thoroughly equipped in every respect.

In each department degrees are granted at the end of carefully graded courses. Students have the advantage of Practical Instruction, Free Quizzes, Limited Ward Classes, Modern Seminar Methods and Clinical Conferences. Fourteen Laboratories.

Upon presentation of proper credentials students from other recognized colleges are admitted to higher standing.

Address the Dean of the Department in which you are interested for illustrated catalogue, describing the course in full and containing information as to fees, etc.

There is chance, yes, a great need for women. First, she is needed in society, where there is nothing mightier than her influence. All through society there are too many false notes sounded. Standards are coming down gradually, insiduously. There are tendencies to rob woman of her beautiful character and strong moral influence. The only thing for her to do is to set the standard high.

Woman is needed in philanthropic work. The work that woman is doing along this line is widespread. There are numerous examples of the good that Women's organizations are doing for humanity.

In the church she is needed. Sad will be the day when women no longer work in the Sunday School. The splendid work being done by the Y. W. C. A. shows her influence in the religious line.

The chief and first place for the woman is the home. As soon as the home is in danger all society is threatened. Woman makes the home. American mothers are going to save American homes. No matter what relation you sustain in the home, exert love, self-denial and determination. The place you fill as a woman will depend on your equipment.

Special music was rendered by the Ladies' Quartet.

SEMINARY NOTES

A baseball team from the Seminary defeated the team from St. Mary's Institute last Thursday by the score of 7-5. The occasional games furnish splendid recreation after the grueling work of the class room.

Hoover, '12, left on Sunday evening for South Bend, Indiana. Mr. Hoover has signed as catcher for the team which will represent that city in the Central League.

The Seminary Catalogue for 1910-1911 has made its appearance and among other things, it contains an excellent cut of the proposed new building. A copy of the catalogue may be had by addressing the Secretary, Dr. Philip Vollmer.

Wednesday afternoon the Freshman class baseball team journeyed to Pennsburg and defeated the Pennsburg Seminary team of that place. It was an excellent game throughout, the Freshman winning out by the small score 3-1. Perkiomen Seminary did not seem to be able to connect with Herman Mathieu's delivery at the right time. MAY DAY FETE

On Saturday, May 14, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will hold a May Day Fete to raise money for the purpose of sending delegates to the different summer conventions of the two associations. This is a worthy purpose and should receive the undivided support of the entire studentbody and so insure a respectable representation of Ursinus men and women at the conventions.

The boarders at the College Dining Hall are again being inflicted with the Fritchsonian system of economics, much to the disgust and danger of said boarders.
