MAY DAY FETE

The May Day Fete that was held on last Saturday evening by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of raising funds for the sending of delegates to the summer conventions, was a success. Although the attendance was not so large as was to be expected, yet those who were present patronized the different attractions freely and a goodly sum was realized.

Those in charge of the arrangements had worked hard in preparation for the Fete, and the different rooms, booths and tables presented an attractive appearance. The dining rooms, of course, received the primary attention of the visitors, and when the evening was over everything had been profitably disposed of. The candy, cake and flower tables also managed to dispose of their wares, and an auction to dispose of the surplus articles was not necessary. The straw ride to Trappe received its share of attention, and demonstrated that it is still a popular pastime.

The feature of the evening was the vaudeville show and all who witnessed it will testify to the fact that we have among us some who may some day attain greatness in this art.

The committee in charge wishes to express its thanks and appreciation to all who contributed to the success of the Fete.

Rev. G. P. Fisher, '87, has been elected pastor of Zion's Reformed church, Warren, Ohio.

MAY MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Last Friday afternoon and evening the last two concerts of the May Musical Festival were held and proved a success in every way. The afternoon concert was of a miscellaneous character. The following is the program as rendered:

PART I.

The Indian Maid Halton
 Handel Choral Society
 (a) Miri Dye (Mother mine)
 (b) My Hope Watts
 (c) My Lover He Comes on the Skee Clough-Leiter
 Mr. Hughes
 Sing, Maiden, Sing Lulkin
 Ursinus Girl's Quartet

O My Heart Is Weary (from Nadeshda) A. Soring Thomas
 Mr. Miller

Danny Deever Damrosch
 Mr. Aldrich

Inflammatum et Accensus (from Stabat Mater) Rossini
 Miss Hinkle and Handel Choral Society

PART II

Sancta Mater, Istud Agars (from Stabat Mater) Rossini
 Miss Hinkle, Mrs. Miller, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Aldrich

Barcarolle Offenbach
 Ursinus Girl's Glee

(a) Sunset Russell
 (b) Come to the Garden Love Salter
 (c) A Birthday Woodman
 Miss Hinkle

The Sleeping Wood Nymph Aldrich
 (Written for and dedicated to the Handel Choral Society)
 Handel Choral Society

All the numbers were exceedingly well rendered and from the applause accorded them were also well received by the audience.

The Friday evening program consisted entirely of the oratorio, "The Elijah". This is an exceedingly heavy and difficult composition and great credit should be given to the director, Prof. Jolls and to the chorus for rendering it so successfully. The work of the soloists was especially fine and greatly appreciated by all. A great many visitors were in town during the days of the Festival and all spoke highly of the concerts which they heard.

And now that the May Musical Festival, which has been looked forward to for such a long time, has at last come and gone we may well say that it has been a success in every feature and those who have worked for it so faithfully should feel amply repaid for all their time and trouble.

THE BIG BLACK MINSTRELS

The Big Black Minstrels, under the efficient leadership of Coach Price gave a black face performance last night for the benefit of the Field House Fund. The Overture was directed by Prof. John M. Jolls and was executed in a most pleasing and creditable manner. The circle was made up of Fogleman, R. S. Thomas and Behney, First Tenor; Matz, Saylor, and Douthette, Second Tenor; Quay, Wagner and Gay, First Bass and Maeder, Isenberg, L. M. Lauer and Kershner, Second Bass. W. M. Lauer assisted in skits and Dr. Homer Smith officiated at the piano.

Quay as Interlocutor and Fogleman and Gay as ends, kept the house in a roar by their songs and jokes. Fogleman is a circus in himself and an equal of many professional ends. Isenberg's song, "A Lemming Pie," was one of the hits of the evening. Maeder's "Personal" lecture was often interrupted with loud applause and seemed to be taken in the proper spirit by those it hit.

The farce, "Sister Masons," was fun from the time Douthett, in his seven hundred pound make up, tripped on a straw, until Behney as Sister Tyler ushered in the "Monstrous" goat.

Prof. Jolls' song, "Till Death," was well received and Horton and Wagner's duet, "Norma," by Dellimi received the commendation always accorded these talented performers.

The local burlesque, "The Collegeville Fire Department," was a scream from start to finish. Fogleman as captain, never let the fun lag and the stage property was a collection worthy of a stall in the dime museum. The townspeople who had their names taken in vain seemed to appreciate the spirit of the thing and take it accordingly. The program ended in a wild scramble of the Captain and his two active firemen in getting out the much used apparatus to attend the fire at the brewery.

The boys are greatly indebted to Mr. Granville B. Lane for his advice and assistance in working up the jokes, songs and skits. Had Mr. Lane been able to have been with the troupe for a longer time doubtless even better results would have followed.

The proceeds are approximately ninety dollars and will go to the Field House Fund.

COMET DISAPPOINTS

A large number of the students gathered on the Athletic field and grandstand on Wednesday night in anticipation of viewing the display of the electrical phenomena supposed to be incidental to the passing of the earth through the tail of the renowned Halley's comet. With exemplary patience they awaited the moment when the vivid flashes and sparks should announce the expected plunge through the gases of Halley. But alas for the weary watchers on stand and field, the long-looked for display failed to materialize and the night crept on to the small hours of morning before the watchful ones realized that their vigilance was in vain and their sacrifice had gone for naught. With measured steps and slow they sought their several abodes, there to discuss the possibility of the comet striking the earth on its next visit to these nebular parts.

BASEBALL

URSINUS 6 ALBRIGHT 1

In the best played home game of the season thus far, on Saturday afternoon Ursinus came out the victors over Albright by a score of 6-1. The game was featured throughout by clever fielding on both sides. Albright at times weakened and timely hitting at these times was the main cause of Ursinus' victory. The home players were exceptionally quick on the bases. Ursinus hit Eisenberger hard, having a total of eight hits.

In the third inning Ursinus started the scoring by securing two runs. Gay got to first base through Smoyer's error and later scored on an error by first baseman Brady through which Horten also reached the initial base. Horten scored soon after on an error by Berger. In the fifth, by five hits and a base on balls, we scored the remainder of our runs. Gay reached first base on a hit, and was advanced a base by Starr's base on balls, and scored soon after on West's hit. Horten followed with a hit scoring Starr. West crossed the plate on Pownall's hit, leaving Horten on third while Pownall was thrown out while trying to steal second. Horten added the sixth run on a hit by Palmer. Kichline and Isenberg, the next two men, struck out.

Albright scored their one run in the fifth, Kehler reached first on a

EDITORIAL

Within a few weeks the second term will have drawn to a close, and those of us who expect to complete our course at Ursinus will be looking forward to the opening of the fall term. In the meantime, what can we do to make that opening the most auspicious we have ever had. It is at this season of the year that the high school graduates are selecting and choosing the college they will attend next year. We at Ursinus should make every effort to bring our college to the notice of those we know who are in this position. We need not fear to recommend our institution to any one, for it is a recognized fact that the standard of learning at Ursinus is equal to all, and surpasses many of the colleges of our size.

Recently about three hundred alumni and undergraduates of one of our large institutions of learning entertained at a banquet a large number of preparatory and high school graduates. The President of the college was present and made an address, and every effort was made to show to the graduates the spirit that exists at the institution in question. While no attempt was made to have the guests obligate themselves in any manner, yet it is safe to assume that when the college opens her doors next fall, a large number of these same young men will be found in the class entering.

Although we at Ursinus are not able to do anything like this, yet there are many ways in which we can use our influence for getting new students. There is perhaps not one among us who does not have visions of a greater Ursinus at some future day, and the only way to realize this dream is to increase the size of the studentbody. Each year the officers of the institution have been accustomed to make an appeal to the students for their cooperation in securing new students. Let each of us show our interest in the welfare and future of the college by giving the names of at least one or two prospective students who may be interviewed by the college representatives. And during the summer months if we should meet any one who is undecided about going to college, it is our duty to use our influence to bring him or her to Ursinus. Much depends on ourselves. We should endeavor to show by example that Ursinus can do what many other colleges have failed to do—make men and women of her students. Let us then do all that we can to spread the name and fame of the institution to which we owe our allegiance.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The semi-finals in the Tennis Tournament were played this week and offered some exciting contests. On Monday Knauer, '10, and Saylor, '10, played their match, and the outcome was in doubt until the last point was made. The contest attracted the attention of a large number of students who "rooted" faithfully for their favorite. On Tuesday Mathieu, '11, and Callen, '13, contested for honors. At the outset it looked like an easy victory for Callen, who won the first set in an easy manner. But Mathieu came back strong and took the next three sets in order. The final match between Saylor '10, and Mathieu, '11, for the championship, will be played next week. The scores of this week's matches follow:

Saylor, vs. Knauer, won by Saylor, 8-6, 2-6, 6-1, 1-6, 6-3.
Mathieu vs. Callen, won by Mathieu, 2-6, 8-6, 6-3, 6-2.

NOTES

Mr. I. M. Rapp, who has been a graduate student in the University of Chicago since last June, has been awarded a fellowship in that institution. In recognition of this distinction, the Board of Directors has extended his leave of absence from Ursinus another year.

The Central Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn, N. Y., has sent out invitation to the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Ordination of their pastor, the Rev. John F. Carson, D. D. Dr. Carson has the congratulations of his many friends at Ursinus.

Andrew R. Brodbeck, Esq., of Hanover, Pa., and James A. Miller, Esq., of New Tripoli, Pa., directors of Ursinus, are candidates in their districts for Congress and the State Senate respectively.

Dr. Elwood I. Snyder of Lancaster, a director of the College, addressed a men's meeting at the evening session of the Lebanon Classis of the Reformed church at Campbellstown, Pa., last Tuesday evening.

Ursinus Library has received Series 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 of the Pennsylvania Archives from Harrisburg, and they will be placed on the reference shelves immediately.

Y. W. C. A.

The meeting on Tuesday evening was in charge of Mrs. M. A. Caldwell. The topic for the evening was "The Habit of Holding on." The substance of her talk was as follows:

Among excellent habits in this age of competition not the least important is that of holding on. We should have earnestness, zeal held in check by wisdom. In any walk of life, no man has obtained success without holding on. It is easy to do right oft times, but testing time comes when trial begins. In Christian Endeavor, Epworth-League and Y. W. C. A. and similar societies the testing time comes in the summer when the test is to keep up zeal.

Remember God has given you your opportunity. Be unselfish and look to him in your own way. Do not make hasty decisions, and above all take all to your Heavenly Father in Prayer. Closely commit thyself unto the Lord and He will bring it to pass and never, never lose your hold upon God. Miss Beach rendered a solo.

Y. M. C. A.

Laucks had charge of the meeting Wednesday evening. He gave a very strong and helpful talk on the subject: "The man who Faces Both Ways." What he said follows in part: We are all well acquainted with the maxim, "Honesty is the best Policy." On the face of it this seems to be a good motto but a close analysis will show it to be otherwise. One's morality should not be regulated by policy. He who is honest for policy's sake will doubtless prove to be dishonest for policy's sake. Servants of policy are very likely to become hypocrites. We must be governed by principle if we wish to stand firm and true.

We must strengthen our characters and practice the principles of righteousness until it becomes second nature to us to do right.

We all despise hypocrisy and we cannot help losing confidence in any one who professes one thing and practices another we should not be afraid to stand up for our convictions. The world needs men of character more than it ever did. We who have the opportunity of a college education will be expected to lead. He who would lead must be honest. Therefore if we can develop a strong character with honesty as its foundation we will have started on the road to success.

BIOLOGY TRIP TO NEW JERSEY

Every spring for several years vain attempts have been made to arrange a trip to New Jersey for the Biology II class. This year so much interest was manifested by the members of the class that arrangements were made for the trip. Unfortunately not all of those taking the course could go. The company, with Dr. Fox as guide, left Collegeville at 6.00 a. m. Tuesday and journeyed to Camden. From there the route led by trolley through a beautiful section of country to Clementon. After exploring the country surrounding a large lake at Clementon, Dr. Fox led the expedition several miles out over pine barrens, through jungles and marshes and also some very fine agricultural sections. Many new plants, birds etc., were found and a number of excellent specimens of plant and animal life were secured. The party left Clementon at 6.00 p. m.

All returned to Collegeville well pleased with the trip.

Rev. Morgan A. Peters, '95, Kenton, Ohio, has been elected president of the Hardin Co., Sunday School Association for the third time.

Rev. E. R. Appenzeller, '00, Chambersburg, has accepted a call to the First Church, Philadelphia.

Miss Rhea Duryea, '08 of Reading was present at the College during the May Musical Festival.

Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary, (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. Editor in Chief, Dr. W. T. Harris, former U. S. Com. of Education. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The Etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparing scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.

RESERVES, 7. ALLENTOWN PREP, 5

Saturday morning the Reserves defeated the Allentown Prepratory School in a rather loosely played game by the score of 7-5. Although the Reserves were outbatted, they were at no time in danger of being defeated. In the opening inning they scored three runs and put the game on ice. Up to the sixth inning the score was 6-0 in favor of the Reserves. In this inning Mathieu, who had been pitching excellent ball, was hit rather freely, and the Allentown boys scored three runs. In the next inning they scored the remainder of their runs. At this time Mathieu

URSINUS MEN WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Garry Cleveland Myers, of the class of 1909, and Samuel Simon Laucks, of the class of 1910, have been awarded scholarships at Columbia University, and both will enter upon their studies in the fall of 1910. Both men submitted theses which met with the approval of the Columbia authorities. Mr. Myers chose as the subject of his thesis, "A Study in child Psychology," while Mr. Laucks wrote on "Methods and Practices in the History of Pennsylvania Politics." Ursinus has good cause to feel proud over the fact that two of her graduates have received scholarships in the same year, an occurrence which is very rare.

Emanuel Reformed Church, Freysville, Pa., was dedicated May 1, Rev. J. K. McKee, '98, officiating.

Rev. J. A. Hunsicker, '92, is at present in Western Colorado engaged in fruit growing.
