SOCIETY NOTES

ZWINGLIAN

Miscellaneous exercises were the order at the meeting of the Zwinglian Society last Friday night. The numbers of the program did not bear any relation to each other, but without exception were well prepared and well rendered. Mr. Bordner's declamation entitled "The Leap of Roushan Beg," was rendered with much spirit and received hearty applause. This was followed by an essay on "Puritanism" by Miss Boston. Mr. Hartman's reading, "On a Slow Train through Arkansas," was exceedingly humorous and was heard with much laughter. The contrast of this reading with the one that followed, "Belshazzar's Feast," by Mr. Brown, was very marked. Both readings received close attention and were much enjoyed. The piano solo by Miss Long was listened to with evident pleasure, as was also the interesting reading by Miss Robison. The declamation by Miss Smith entitled "Robespierre's Last Speech" was exceptionally fine in subject matter and well rendered, and was followed by a quartette composed of Misses Kaisinger and Behney, and Messrs. Kerschner and Tool. Miss Shipe, the orator of the evening, was natural and forceful in her presentation of "Tolstoi, the Regenerator of Russia." The Review by Mr. Leidy contained much fun and was well received.

SCHAFF

Many of the new members appeared on the program Friday night and their work showed their working ability. The first number was a very prettily rendered piano solo by Miss Percival, A. This was followed by a well-written essay, "The Advance of History," by Mr. Harmon, '06. Mr. Koons, A., made his first appearance by reading "The Fashionable School-girl." The selection was decidedly funny and was read in a manner which suited the story. The vocal duet by Miss Ebbert, '05, and Mr. Heller, '07, was given in their usual pleasing style. This number was followed by an "Original Story,—An Incident" by Mr. Ebbert, '07, wherein he very ably held the attention of the audience. The sad tone of this story was dispelled entirely by the very comical recitation "The Puzzled Dutchman," which was so well given by LeRoy Schweyer, A. Words of wisdom flowed from the lips of Mr. Ellis, '07, when he read the "Letter from a Self-made Merchant to his Son." The best things are always kept till last—and the best this time was the gazette by Mr. McCollum, '05. This, his last appearance as editor only strengthens the impression that he is one of the best all round original editors Schaff has produced.

The bi-monthly election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Ebbert; Vice-President, Miss Hobson; Recording Secretary, Mr. Ebbert; Financial Secretary, Mr. Smith; Chaplain, Mr. Cook; First Editor, Miss Paiste; Second Editor, Mr. Heller; Critic, Mr. Wismer; Treasurer, Mr. Steward; Pianist, Miss Beck; Janitor, Mr. Myers.

SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

The students enjoy great advantages by being in the city. The past week we heard Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper on his Famous Lecture, "The Humorous Incidents of My Ministerial Life." John R. Mott was also in the city and gave an address on "The Power of the Christ Life."

The Richmond Convention in Session from December 2-5 was attended by Leinbach, Snyder, Smith and Peters as delegates.

Rev. E. R. Appenzeller pastor of St. John's Reformed Church, Chambersburg, visited the Seminary the past week.

The Ladies Aid of the Reformed Churches of Philadelphia gave a Boston Supper in the rooms of the Seminary. A large number of people availed themselves of this opportunity to help along the cause of the Seminary.

John Lentz was called home to attend the funeral of his brother at Lebanon.

Malcolm P. Laros, is assisting his brother Rev. E. J. Laros, who is at present quarantined owing to diphtheria in his family.

THE LECTURE RECITAL

Tuesday evening, December 6, Mrs. Fitz-Maurice, Principal of the Virgil Clavier School, Philadelphia, gave her Lecture-Recital in Bomberger Chapel. She opened her program with the following beautifully rendered and well chosen selections on the piano.

- (a) Pastorale, Scarlatti
- (b) Prelude, Chopin
- (c) Schmetterling, Grieg
- (d) Frühlingsrauschen, Sinding

In her instructive and interesting lecture which followed, she described the "Virgil-Clavier Method" and brought out "Its Relation to Musical Interpretation."

To make more clear what she had indicated in her lecture she called Miss Spangler, who at present is studying under her, on the rostrum. Miss Spangler went through the preliminary exercises at the technique table, for the necessary exercise in keeping under control the muscles of the arm as well as the muscles of the hand. Then by illustrating by the scale both on the piano and the clavier, she showed the importance and necessity of being able to introduce move notes into the measure, while the measure itself is uniform.

In a series of exercises on the piano she illustrated the following:

- (a) Five octave velocity scale.
- (b) Accent Scale.
- (c) Expression Scale.
- (d) Legato and Staccato Scale.
- (e) The Octave Scale.
- (f) Velocity Etudes Op. 299, Nos. 1 and 2. (Played connectedly.) Czerny

She closed her program with these selections on the piano.

- (a) Caprice, Gluck-St. Saens
- (b) Diebestraum, Liszt
- (c) Valse, Schubert-Liszt
- (d) Andate Spianato and Grand Polonaise, Chopin

The treat was something the like and equal of which we have never had at Ursinus. Mrs. Fitz-Maurice's selections were skillfully and beautifully rendered and we undoubtedly can proclaim her truly a musical genius. Her lecture, besides being interesting, was extremely instructive, and those who were better able to appreciate her work declare it the best they have ever heard. From what we know and have heard of her we are fully convinced of her ability and success as an instructor.

ALUMNI NOTES

East Pennsylvania Classis met in special session on Thursday of last week in Christ Reformed church, Bethlehem, Pa., and confirmed the call to Rev. A. P. Frantz, '96, S. T., to the Reformed Church of Catasauqua. A Committee was appointed to install the new pastor.

Again the celebrated classic in church music, Henry Farmer's "Mass in B. flat," with all its musical beauties was sung at the dedication of another of Mr. Carnegie's organs. Dr. Bahner's church in Waynesboro was the first to receive such a splendid gift, and no other Mass could have been more appropriate to such a great occasion. Of the nine parts of the Mass, the "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," and the "Sanctus" were exceedingly well rendered.

'03. W. B. Anson, of the University of Pennsylvania, spent Tuesday about the college.

John Spatz of the Class of '97, formerly of Boyertown but now employed in the Boyertown Burial Casket Co's. Philadelphia Office was married to Miss Lucy Gray on Thanksgiving Day. They were married at L. P. G. Fegley's who gave her away. Will reside in Philadelphia. Rev. Frank P. Laros performed the ceremony.

DR. BEEBER TO PREACH

The college sermon for December will be preached in the chapel next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock by the Rev. Thomas R. Beeber, D. D., pastor of the first Presbyterian Church of Norristown.

Doctor Beeber is one of the foremost clergymen of the Presbyterian Church. His cordial and sympathetic interest in the life of college students is well known. He is a warm friend of Ursinus, and will be welcomed by both the college and the community on this occasion.

1905 BASE BALL SCHEDULE

Mr. Miller, manager of the baseball team, has completed the schedule of games for the season of 1905. Several new teams have been taken on and the schedule gives promise of being one of the hardest for many years. As a whole, it reflects great credit upon Mr. Miller's efficiency as a manager.

EDITORIAL

No century since history began has been more influential in shaping the destiny of the world than was the eighteenth. The Reformation freed the people of the civilized world from the tyrannies of the church, but not until the close of the eighteenth century was the terrific struggle of absolutism against democracy brought to an end. The movement was almost simultaneous throughout the Christian world. Everywhere the people demanded a "hand in the government of themselves." In France, the terrible Revolution, which at times threatened the very existence of the nation itself, caused the country to be devastated and deluged with blood, and shook Europe as it was never shaken before, was the means by which the people gained this end. Although the movement was not fraught with so much horror to Americans, yet the end attained was none the less glorious, and in shuffling off the shackles of despotism from themselves, they helped materially to secure the blessings of democracy for the mother country.

During all this time, and while the rest of the civilized world has been enjoying democratic rule for more than a century, Russia has stifled every effort that tends to break down the power of the powerful bureaucracy built up around the Czar. Every expression of democratic principles, whether openly or through the press, has been carefully suppressed. By means of her magnificent police system, every attempt to sow the seeds of democracy has been brought to naught.

Hundreds of students have been sent to Siberia and universities closed just because they dared to stand up for the masses against the few. The movement which is on foot at the present time in Russia seems likely to change this order of things. The men who have initiated it are not radicals but conservatives, who do not believe that everything can be gained at once, but who are willing to make their demands such that the government must consider and grant them. No interference with the meetings of the zemstvo presidents has been offered as yet. This may be because the officials have read the signs of the times aright and know that opposition is useless, or because they can do nothing at present on account of the war. Whatever the result may be—whether all that is hoped for the movement is attained or not—it behooves us as students to follow closely any upheaval which means so much not only for Russia but for the world as well.

The regulations governing the wearing of the college insignia of honor are given on another page of the WEEKLY. By means of these rules, the question of a man's eligibility to wear them can readily be determined at any time. It is hoped that they will obviate any difficulties in regard to the wearing of the U in the future.

Y. M. C. A.

In last Wednesday night's meeting, Prof. Kline gave a very excellent talk before the Y. M. C. A. on the subject, "The Great Appeal and the Grand Choice," Josh. 24: 15. When Elijah challenged the people to make a decision he left it entirely to them as to whom they would serve. Joshua in presenting the question urges them to choose the Lord and leads off by saying, "As for me and my house we will serve the Lord."

The service of God is a matter of free choice and each one decides for himself whether his choice shall be his redemption or his destruction. Choice is as necessary to the spiritual life as breathing is to the physical life. In the material world the struggle is for existence. Matter and animals must. Man may, can, ought. The Keynote of the Bible from Genesis to Revelations is choose and choose now.

There are two extremes in religious appeal, 1. An emotional appeal. 2. A rational appeal. When a decision is made in answer to an emotional appeal entirely, it is but transitory and is soon lost sight of. The person who makes his choice wholly on what he explains by his reason and casts aside miracles falls in as dangerous an error.

A cure for rationalism is to become more rational. Let us then avoid both these extremes and combine the two in making our choice. Have we made our choice? I leave the question for each one to answer. May the decision of Joshua aid us in making our decision and may it be made now.

SOPHOMORES ENTERTAINED

On Saturday evening December 3, the two Sophomore girls at Olevian, Misses Neff and Duyrea, entertained their class. The maroon and white missive sent out last week summoned them to Olevian at this time. The girls spent most of Saturday in getting all the things ready so as to be able to entertain their fellow classmates in the nicest way possible. All along however, they were made aware of the intentions of some of the students stealing the refreshments. The girls took warning and made them secure. By eight the Sophomore boys had appeared at Olevian in groups of threes and fours and even more. One however, was missing and this one the girls knew had intended to be there. Accordingly the entire crowd proceeded to the dormitory buildings and there found and released the one who had been taken and held there by the Freshmen. After a short time they returned with the lost in their midst. The evening was joyously and pleasantly spent to the time when the Freshmen again disturbed the party by battering against doors and windows. The boys again went out and brought back with them into the room of festivities one of the plucky little Freshmen. This little fellow preferred to take his seat in a corner and be a witness of the affair rather than for a few minutes, perhaps, be held on his word of honor in another room. The games were carried out as anticipated. For the game of conversation the girls had little white cards with the maroon color on it and these each one filled out as a dance card, two minutes being given to each for a conversation. Then the game in which the whistle was to be found was indulged in, those looking on taking great delight in watching those who hunted it struggle and scramble.

The refreshments at this point were taken from their hiding place and the boys and girls together after a great excitement found much satisfaction in the cake, fudge, peanuts etc., and with the punch drank the toast to 1907. Of all these refreshments the Freshman was a witness but not a partaker. At a late hour good nights were begun to be said and in another half hour or more the Sophomore boys with the Freshman left the reception room and on the porch of the Hall gave the 1907 yell. The evening evidently was an evening of enjoyment for both Sophomores and Freshmen, and was an affair in which class spirit played a very prominent part.

You do up Your Bundle--
"We Do the Rest"

Wrap up your washables, let us know what day each week to call for them and when you want them delivered at your door and—dismiss the matter from your mind. Back they'll come laundered, fresh, sweet, soft or crisp as the case requires and altogether to your liking. This laundry suits men, suits women, suits every body.
