Community Council Nominates Officers

Representatives of Proposed Organization Hear Penn State Professor Speak at Session Monday

The preliminary steps to organize a proposed Community Council were taken at a meeting of the representatives of the various organizations of the community on Monday evening in Bomberger Hall, Ursinus College. Dr M. E. Johns, professor of Rural Sociology, of Pennsylvania State College, was the speaker.

Dr Johns explained the functions and operation of a community council of the type proposed here. He has been instrumental in forming a number of such organizations in other communities in the state. After his address, Dr Johns answered a number of questions asked by the representatives. The speaker was introduced by Rev Edward Platts.

Mrs Edwin Coggeshall read the aims and objectives of the organization. After some discussion, these were adopted as they appeared in the last issue of The Independent except for one change in the regulations regarding membership. The new section was amended to read:

B. Each organization is entitled to designate one representative to act for it on the Council. All meetings of the Council shall be open to any interested citizens of the community.

C. Persons who are public-spirited, or those interested in special projects, may be invited to meet with the Council.

Dr John Lentz made a motion that the representatives adopt the statement of aims and objectives as presented, with the changes, and take these statements back to the various groups represented for approval. The motion carried.

The nominating committee presented the following persons for the various offices: Chairman, Rev W. Russell Zimmerman; Vice-chairman, Mrs Herbert Wm. Barron; Secretary-treasurer, Mrs E. H. Coggeshall. The executive committee would be comprised of the officers and these members: Rev Edward Platts, Mr F. I. Sheeder, Mr Clarence Scheuren, and Mrs George W. Hartzell.

No action was taken on the nominations, this matter being postponed for a further meeting of the representatives after they have reported back to their organizations. The next meeting will be held at the call of the temporary chairman, Mr A. H. Francis.

Roosevelt Sweeps Nation For Fourth Term With a Substantial Majority

Collegeville, Trappe, and Other Local Districts Give Dewey and G.O.P. a 2 1/2 to 1 Lead; Pennsylvania Endorses New Deal

Franklin D. Roosevelt was re-elected President of the United States for a fourth term in the balloting of the general election on Tuesday, carrying many of the New Deal candidates with him in a big majority of the states. This was the first war-time election since 1864.

Pennsylvania, one of the so-called pivotal states in the election forecast, gave the President a majority of about 100,000 votes in an incomplete state-wide count. An estimated quarter of a million soldier votes will be counted in the total on November 22, but is not expected to make any appreciable change in the final count.

Local voting districts, following a long-time precedent gave the Republican presidential candidate, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, and other Republican candidates, about a 2 1/2 to 1 lead with about 90 percent of the eligible voters casting a ballot.

Governor Dewey conceded the election in a radio address about 4 a. m. on Wednesday morning, when it appeared certain that more than 30 states would probably give the Democrats an undisputed majority of the votes. The reluctance of a majority of voters to endorse a change in the top offices of the nation in wartime appeared likely to give the Democrats a few more seats in the House of Representatives while the Republicans probably will gain about two more seats in the treaty-making U. S. Senate.

Pennsylvania and the other "pivotal" states, including Illinois, Massachusetts, Ohio, Connecticut, Delaware, and New Jersey, seemed likely to go for Roosevelt. New Jersey, however, gave a majority of its votes in an early tabulation to Dewey and the Republicans. Whether this vote can be held in the final count remains uncertain because some of the urban areas had not reported at the latest count.

RALLY IN FINAL QUARTER FAILS TO WIN FOR BEARS

The Ursinus College Bears threw a scare into the Lafayette College eleven on Saturday as they took a first quarter lead, lost it, and fought back gamely with a two-touchdown spurt in the last period that wasn't quite sufficient, bowing 34-21.

Dick Schellhase's passing and Carney's receiving featured Ursinus' 48 yard march to touchdown in the initial period, Don Wickerham taking the oval across from the one-yard line.

The Maroon, however, came back strongly in the second period to take the lead, driving 55 yards for the first touchdown. Charles Loiacano sprinted 73 yards through tackle for the second touchdown and Lafayette took the lead.

A 53-yd drive at the start of the second half gave Lafayette its third touchdown. Bill Crowell ran the last 26 yards for the score. Robbins added another in the third period when he sprinted 59 yards.

Agnew, Bears halfback, took the pigskin across for Ursinus' two tallies in the fourth quarter during a desperate aerial blitz.

The Bears will entertain the Franklin & Marshall squad on Patterson Field on Saturday afternoon. Ursinus lost to the Lancaster team earlier in the season.

NEWS OF LOCAL MEN AND WOMEN IN OUR NATION'S VICTORY PARADE

ARMY — NAVY — MARINES — WAVES — WACS — SPARS

Sergeant Walton C. Heckler, Collegeville, who is now serving overseas, celebrated his 23rd birthday anniversary on October 6 by working as usual, according to a letter received here this week. Heckler writes:

"The Independent is coming through—about five or six weeks late—but I enjoy every issue. "Everything seems about the same over here in England. The weather is as poor as ever. I am still doing the same job as before—assistant air crew chief on a flying fortress—helping to maintain the big ships in good condition for flying.

"Seem to be a lot of changes taking place in the old home town. I probably won't know the place when I see it.

From Ensign Harry Felton comes this letter:

"I am still receiving The Independent—and much more promptly than Harry Ludwig wrote—and enjoy reading it very much. I especially like reading all the news you print in the Victory Parade. I start my second year in the Navy today (October 28) and I've been in all four corners of the United States and some of the surrounding waters besides. Harold Horn was right when he wrote that you move a lot in the Navy. My new address is USS Sinsdale, c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, California.

Elwood T. Hunsicker Sp(X) 1/c, with the Seabees in the Pacific, writes that he noted in The Independent the story that German prisoners are aiding in picking the apple crop in these parts. Hunsicker makes the observation that the stories (if true) about the soft life of the prisoners of war do not make the men in our own armed forces, who are enduring the hardships, feel any better.

Staff Sergeant Dick Pfeleger writes from France:

"A few lines to let you know that I am enjoying your paper. Though it comes in spurts and a bit late, I still read it "cover to cover." I just finished a letter to Cy Donahue to offer him congratulations. I read in your paper that he made corporal—even though you and I are thousands of miles apart and Cy and I merely hundreds of miles away from each other. I almost had the opportunity of meeting he and Lloyd Hallman over here but we were moving through France so fast that we didn't stay in one place long enough to meet up.

"People at home should be very glad that the war never reached the states. After seeing and being through some of the towns over here I know that one just can't visualize what these towns were like before war came."

We are indebted to Francis J. Heinz seaman second class, with the Navy Seabees in the Pacific, for our first Christmas card of the season. Heinz sent a card this week showing a scene of the black sands of Hawaii against a tropical background.

Private Harry Ludwig has been assigned a new address in care of the Postmaster at San Francisco, California. Harry is with a gasoline supply outfit.

Staff Sergeant John J. Geigus, son of Mr and Mrs Joseph Geigus, near Oaks, was awarded the Air Medal and cited for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial raids in the South Pacific. He entered the service three years ago. Three brothers, Stephen, George, and Joseph, are also in the service.

Joseph G. Stewart F2/c, stationed at Fort Pierce, Florida, with the Navy, writes:

"I find The Independent very interesting. It certainly is thoughtful of you to send me the home town paper, as I like to read the news from the home front. Keep them coming."

Stewart's address is Flotilla 53—Group 183, Div. 4, ABC No. 2, ATB, Fort Pierce.

Corporal John L. Underkoffler, 25, son of Mr and Mrs Alvin J. Underkoffler of Bridge Street, Graterford, a member of the medical staff, is now serving with a B-24 Liberator group overseas. His group recently distinguished itself by setting a new high in bombing accuracy in the 15th Air Force stationed in Italy. He has two brothers also in the armed service, Woodrow and Elmer, both of whom are serving in the Navy.

A Purple Heart medal awarded to his son for wounds received in action on Saipan was displayed by Samuel Minnich, of Oaks, at a recent meeting of the Oaks Fire company.

The son, George W. Minnich, 23, of the Marine corps, was wounded in August. He trained in North Carolina and South Carolina and has been in the service for three years. Another son, Samuel Minnich, Jr., 25, is serving his country in France.

Sergeant Harrold S. Bortz's military address is now VMB 483, MAG 62, Photo Section, F.M.F., Cherry Point, N. C. Bortz is living at New Bern, N. C. He is the veteran of many months service in the Pacific theatre where he was attached to a photo squadron.

The correct address for Lieutenant C. W. Huling is now 828 Sig. Pgn. Repl. Co., Fort Jackson, S. C.

Ensign Richard Landes should now be addressed in care of the Commandant of the 17th Naval District, care of the Fleet Post Office at Seattle, Washington.

She'll tell you when Long Distance lines are crowded

There are hundreds of thousands of Long Distance calls every day. Sometimes there's a rush on certain circuits.

When that happens, the operator aims to be helpful by saying—"Please limit your call to 5 minutes."

This request is not made on all Long Distance calls. It's on peak-hour calls to and from war-busy centers.

Slackwire Sam is overdoing his act

YES, Sam is headed for a fall if he doesn't stop adding weight to his act, or else starts using a heavier cable.

By the same token, we shouldn't overload our home electrical wiring systems, either. Play safe by having large enough wires coming into your home, plus plenty of circuits to take care of lights and appliances. And by all means, have lots of convenience outlets so you won't have unsightly extension cords and wires running all over your house.

It takes the right kind of wiring... modern wiring... to bring you the comforts of electrical living... especially the kind you'll want after the war. Plan NOW to bring your home wiring up to date THEN.

Superior Tube Company

COLLEGEVILLE, PA.

SUPERIOR TUBE CO. GETS STAR AWARD

for meritorious services on the production front.

"You have continued to maintain the high standard which you set for yourselves and which you distinguish more than six months ago. You may well be proud of your achievement.

"The White Star, which the renewal adds to your Army-Navy Production Award flag, is the symbol of appreciation from our Armed Forces for your continued and determined effort and patriotism.

Sincerely yours,
Robert P. Patterson
Under Secretary of War."

Brown's remarks to the group follow:

"All of us have a right to be proud of these two letters. The first one proves that we are continuing our vital contribution to the supply lines. It measures that contribution by the only recognition given to production units throughout the country. (You should know that about 4 percent of all war plants are awarded the "E" pennant, and only about one quarter of these ever obtain the coveted star.) The second letter shows the pride felt by the management of our company in these achievements in which we have all had a share.

"The award of this flag, and our flying it here entail a grave responsibility. The orders that we fill are important parts in every major project for the armed forces. The men at Washington, at Dayton, at Knoxville, have come to rely heavily on the "know-how" that only Superior personnel can furnish. Not a week passes but that we are called to contribute of our skills to some new program. Sometimes we cannot be told where our tubing will be used, because certain new equipment must be kept secret until it is put into action in some far battle area.

"Superior has been honored by having a representative on the Tubing Advisory Committee of the War Production Board since its inception. We have become important because of what all of us have done and will continue to do. There can be no let-up. Spot directives and triple A priorities are the one means of channeling production so as to insure that "first things come first." We realize that they disrupt our production routine, but we must expect still more of them. All of us have proven that we can adapt ourselves to the necessary changes.

"As the stars in the service flags here and in our homes represent active participation in the world-wide struggle, let us consider that this star is the symbol of our unremitting support of the same ideals.

KEYSTONE GRANGE MEETING

The program started with a prelude of piano music by Dorothy Hoyer. Mrs. Margaret Greiner then gave the introduction. Mrs. Grace Hess and Mrs. Sara Smith gave a vocal duet "Juanita" and Dorothy Hoyer played a piano solo.

Act one of "Over the River Charlie" was then put on. Scene: Dr. Quick's Living Room, 8 p. m. Monday. During this act Jean Kuni played a piano solo, Dorothy Lacey gave a recitation, and Marie Ann Poley a piano solo. Between the first and second acts, Mrs. Alice Zollers sang "Little Yellow Dog," accompanied on the piano by Grace Hess. Act two: scene, "Hospital Morgue, 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Christian D. Hunsicker's team will present their program on December 6. Mrs. Glass, Mrs. Zimmerman, and Mr. Sheppard are the judges for both programs.

At our next meeting on November 15, there will be no literary program since it is election of officers night.

HOWARD SACKS BLINDED IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

Howard Sacks, 33-year-old farmer, was blinded when struck by a gunshot discharge fired by another hunter near his home at Zieglerville, Wednesday afternoon.

After being given emergency treatment at Montgomery Hospital, Norristown, Sacks was removed to Wills Eye Hospital where he will undergo an operation to remove the pellets in an effort to restore his sight.

Sacks and his two brothers, John, of Norristown, and Maurice, of Zieglerville, were hunting on an abandoned farm near the Sacks farm, when a party of hunters approaching them fired on a pheasant. Shots struck Howard in the face and pellets entered both eyes.

His two brothers rushed Sacks to the hospital where an eye specialist, gave him treatment.

The brothers told State Police they do not know the names of the hunters in the other party.

ROOSEVELT SWEEPS NATION

The state vote on the Senatorial candidates appeared to have swung with the national vote for Roosevelt, putting the incumbent, James J. Davis, in second place position. The outcome of that race appeared in the balance in early returns.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh gave substantial majorities to FDR that offset voting in rural counties of the state although the lead was less than that in the 1940 campaign.

Norristown showed a majority for the Republican slate but Pottstown, where the Citizens' Political Action Committee worked very hard, the Roosevelt slate received pluralities. Limerick Township's three voting districts gave a total plurality to Dewey with two of the districts, the first and third, in the Republican column.

County-wide reports showed that Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., Lower Merion, would be returned to the House of Representatives, with a plurality of about 30,000 over Marvin Brunner, deceased. Brunner died last August of a heart attack while campaigning in Pottstown. His death came after printing of the ballots was begun and his name could not be recalled. He was a resident of Worcester township.

Lloyd H. Wood, Evansburg, county G.O.P. leader, led the voting for the three General Assembly posts. His running mates, Howard F. Boorse and Henry Propert, were also assured Assembly seats by very substantial majorities.

The Collegeville polling place again registered 455 votes in the presidential race — identical with the vote four years ago. The Republicans gained 18 votes, however. Trappe voters cast fewer ballots on Tuesday than during the voting four years ago, with a total of 255 against 1940's 271. The Democrats gained five votes over the last presidential result.

Perkiomen Township gave Dewey the lead with 211 votes to 89 for the Democrat slate. Perkiomen citizens cast an unusually large number of straight ballots for each party. In almost every election district the Roosevelt vote was greater than the registered voting strength. A comparison in Collegeville shows 131 Democrat votes as against a registration of 82. Other comparisons are: Trappe registration, 46 Democrats, 68 Roosevelt votes; Perkiomen Twp., 74 registrants, 89 votes; Upper Providence Twp., 447 registrants, 541 Democrat votes; L. Providence Twp., 197 registrants and 352 votes.

Most political leaders agreed that this differential existed only because of the conditions due to the war and that a normal peace-time election would have seen an opposite result in local districts.

RAMBLING AT RANDOM

in the aisles and damaged the organ before being shot and turned over to Elm Terrace Hospital.

SARA HALLMAN

Miss Sara Hallman, popular C-T girls coach since the fall of 1940, has resigned and is leaving on Nov. 13. Patrons and pupils alike of Collegeville-Trappe high school will miss her firm, steady personality and outstanding leadership. She is a good teacher and a good coach. . . we hate to see her leave. . . yet we do not wish to stand in her way for a better paying job. Our loss will be Hershey's gain. Good luck.

In last week's column excerpts from a letter by T/S Randle Haas stated he had been overseas a year. This was erroneous and should have read two years. A second correction concerns the hunters who reported game plentiful—some other fellows came forth since to claim the game is scarce. So there you are.

Collegeville had a lamb experience on Sunday that wasn't quite as fantastic as Lansdale's deer story; but it was funny while it lasted.

To make a short story long this is what happened. Doctor Robert C. Miller, popular local dentist, somehow came into possession of a lamb, calculated to be a pet for his children, Sondra and Clamer. Sunday morning the genial "Doc," erected a corral to contain the pet.

But after the lamb was "corralled" it started to bleat — and it kept on bleating. The neighbors became disturbed and it was feared they might call police chief Moyer to abate the nuisance. After careful diagnosis Doc decided the lamb was lonesome and in need of companionship and thereupon set out to obtain a second lamb to keep the party of the first part quiet.

It took some time to obtain another lamb and while Doc was gone the first lamb leaped out of the corral and fled to parts unknown. Incidentally, after the second lamb was placed in the corral by its lonesome it too began to bleat.

Immediate action was necessary because the neighbors were really getting excited by this time. So, grabbing the lamb problem by the horns, so to speak, Doc called for volunteers and organized a posse of neighboring housewives to help round up the first mentioned lamb. Armed with mops, brooms and washes the posse began the search, which finally terminated in Mr and Mrs F. I. Sheeder's backyard — in the exclusive up-town residential section — of all embarrassing places. The lamb scampered around quite friskily and the posse had considerable difficulty in lassoing the critter; but it was finally accomplished — to the accompaniment of considerable mirth by the up-town spectators.
