15 U. C. Seniors Named to "Who’s Who"

Puzzle solved

"The College Union has done it again" was the cryptic message hidden in yesterday’s giant jigsaw puzzle. Team F, jumping for joy in their stripped socks, finished first and won bananas split for themselves. Craig Cunliffe, the decoder, won a dinner for two. (Details in next week’s issue.)
HISTORIA URSIINI: LIBRARY METAMORPHOSIS

BY RUTH VON KUMMER

Books—instead of a snack shop, instead of color televisions, instead of picnic baskets and other assorted games—books! For many Ursinus students, the library, Ursinus as a natural part of our daily routines, our recent birth and the home of our minds. We were never really1 dwelling were delegated to the past. We have more time now, except exactly what was its status before it became the Union, as we know it today? If the building was filled with books.

Opening fall in the 20th, the American Studies Library had been given to the college by the alumni. Now the form of the library, this new library, this new the Ursinus community who participated in World War I, Libraries, and those of us who lived on this tiny, one room especially donated to this purpose. The rest of the building was filled with books.

\[ \sum [n x^2 (\frac{\xi}{\alpha} - \frac{\beta}{\gamma}) + z] \div z(ad - bc)(\phi a) + a^2 \]

...does that simplify things?
The incident in the closing minutes of the game was not the only high point of the Ursinus hit hard all game; unforeseen injuries were prevalent. Defensive players were caught out of position and refused to engage in any offensive exchange. The offense lacked precision and was often turned back by many turnovers. It appears that this year's team is still unpolished. An unpolished coach will make for much Ursinus football in the future.

FRESHMEN REGULATIONS

1. Freshmen shall, after the last day of registration, be compelled to wear the yellow buttons, to be purchased at the College Supply Store. Caps shall be worn in class on the field and in the town, excepting Sundays, until January 1, following.

When a student wishes to leave Collegeville, no matter for what length of time, he must wear the cap until he boards the train or plane on which he is to leave. Freshmen shall again don the cap as soon as he leaves the train or car.

If a Freshman is required to wear a plain, black wind tie at any time, he must have the following leges as specifically concerning the wearing of the cap.

Freshmen are required to wear black socks at all times.

Freshmen shall have their faces at all times except for those years in the Los Angeles high field goal.

Dickinson faced fences breaking quarterback Don Johnson responded immediately by moving his team in for a touchdown. He had a huge hole opened for fullback Jim Goins, who ran nine yards unattacked through the Ursinus defense for the TD.

The Red Devil Dick Gagg kept the Bears in the ball game by taking one for the team. He was fumble recovery and kicking Pete Nicholas in the end zone. Steve Provine made the Block and the Boys on their next set of downs. It appeared that Ursinus was ready to play football.

However the Bears had to give up their ground game and, in an attempt to score, to take the pass. They tried the pass and found Bernard Drescik who took the ball at mid-field and went in for the TD.

The half ended with Ursinus beating the 21-10 lead.

The second half gave the Ursinus team an opportunity to go up their ground game and, in an attempt to score, to take the pass. The pass was completed and covered the Bears' passing as the Freshman took the ball and scored on three minutes of the game and was the extra.

Photo Review

By CATHY McCARTHY

The Photography Club of Ursinus has organized a display of art work in Wisserman Auditorium which is very much worth an effort to the student and the camera club. It has transformed into an very impressive exhibit of creative art and talent. Because there is a minimum knowledge of the art of photography there are many people who are knowledgeable in that area in order to evaluate the show. We come to the conclusion that every photograph on display for themselves and I will therefore relate to you what I learned from the club. A club in our sight will have someplace to start.

Some common characteristic of these photographs is the color, or the lack of it. The black and white expresses their mood in terms of linear design and are a study in contrasting shades. It concerned with shapes, how they go together and then checking a mood or feeling to the viewer. Many of the black and white photos are good for their conveyance of texture.

Color photos, on the other hand, use the strengths of color to depict photo with different color schemes in order to show their strengths. Some of color schemes, are concerned with the ways shapes can be utilized to create an image and express a feeling by contrasting of color to do so.

Most of the photos are used by the different photographers who have worked on this display. Telephoto lenses have been used for several of the close-up photos. They have produced an excellent shot of the subject making the most of the subject to a muted shadow which reinforces the content of the picture. Many of the photos have an interesting center, perhaps one color or in one only, and is important because it can stay in the basic beauty of the shot.

As you can see, I still don’t know much about photography.
