Who's Jean APO To Sell Used Books

Jean Shepherd is well known to the listening public of New York and Philadelphia as the author of his long running nightly radio show as well as a story-teller, Jew's harper, head-chumper and TV star "Jean Shepherd's America." His first book, called "one of the four most influential satirical books in America," has been written voluminously for "The Village Voice." Now he has brought you "Lampoon, Car and Driver and Play-boy" in fact he has won the annual Peabody Award in February.

His first novel, In God We Trust, All Others Pay Cash, was a best seller and has been followed by three more books: One man's meat is another man's poison; The优化名的 Golden Memories and Other Disasters; and Ferrari in the Bedroom. His latest offering has become a cult and a writer's delight. "Hitkey's Night," a gem of a novel, has appeared in this week's issue. What the author calls "the crass and unadulterated truth" is a satirical delight. The book is set in the isolated and formulations of the love and the need for the order and the fit. The author is, in fact, a seer who can accurately predict the future of our society. It is a must read for anyone who wants to understand the world we live in.

In conclusion, Jean Shepherd's latest book, "Hitkey's Night," is a must read for anyone who wants to understand the world we live in. It is a satirical delight that accurately predicts the future of our society. It is a must read for anyone who wants to understand the world we live in.
Growth of the Greeks
Beta Sigma Lambda

The beginnings of Beta Sigma Lambda have just recently been put down in writing by one of its founders, Nick Lucas Loca. If we are to judge from the form in which it was received by our fraternity.

On a balmy Fall day six of us former followers were dining in session in one of the old dormitory—specifically “The Dog House” we talked about fellowship, lasting friendships and loyalty to each other. At that time we were very idealistic and dreamed of the future. We continued the discussion and meeting in Dorr Hall—all one of the old dormitories now re-modeled far too progress! One of us, probably “Al” Feather, came up with the idea of a fraternity! Some one else came up with ideas of Brotherhood—someone else the idea of loyalty and then sincerity. This was the nucleus of B.S.L. In those years everything was Greek in Greek letters and only six scholars fund was started stand firm! We had to go “underground” since fraternities were forbidden at “U.”

We then talked about the structure of the fraternity. Not to take in too many students unless they were carefully screened and met with the standards of the fraternity. A hand shake and an initiation process. In this I know “Al” Feather was the man with the ideas. I have a bunch that in his home town of Penngrove, N. J., he was tied in with some lodges and our initiation after one of those lodges “Al” belonged to.

The candidate for membership was brought in the room that was poorly lighted. We all sat around in a semi-circle and each member spoke of the meaning of the letters B.S.L. and the purpose of the fraternity. To me at the time, being a senior, was very interesting and teaching! Then the president showed the member the hand shake.

At that time, each member had, and new member got, a goblet to drink a toast to the fraternity! We don’t know what happened to mine. 50 years is a long time! We were to meet every year. We did for a while, but the Great Depression 1929-31 and a second World War made us forget the promises of our youth! Soon—you find out too late. Four of our six are gone and all that is left are memories. You can hope this J.T., but the new has to go forward, not the old!

Fraternally,
Nick L. Lucas ’29

The brothers of Beta Sigma Lambda thank Nick for his informative and historically important letter. Beta Sig’s gone forward and is still active on the “U” campus. Keith Brundage is president.

Beta Sig has had a long and full history and we hope to continue for many years to come. Our founders never had “Hey Raunchy” or “Grey Hound” but still the same Beta Sigma students.

Sincerely,
Rich McIntyre

Sigma Rho Lambda

Sigma Rho Lambda fraternity was founded in the fall of 1918 under the principles of furthering friendship, brotherhood and the ideals of today’s motto of “Fraternity, fortitude, loyalty and self-reliance,” the Brotherhood. Traditions were established that are still followed today. Our Founders built the fraternity colors of maroon and white, homecoming and spring banquets, the rush bags and the ideas and events of pledging. These traditions continue today as a strong part of fraternity life.

Today Sigma Rho has nineteen brothers and two social-brothers, with officers Greg Weibold, president; Greg Weibold, vice-president; Ed Novotny, secretary; John Moert, corresponding secretary; Howard Barkan, treasurer, the rush bags, the rush bags and the ideas and events of pledging. These traditions continue today as a strong part of fraternity life.

SIGMA RHO HOMECOMING

The team’s first win was over Marist College in the opponent’s pool. However the team rebounded beating Fordham in our pool to register their first victory of the season.

Sincerely,
Rich McIntyre

WRESTLING

Due to limitations of staff, it was impossible to give adequate coverage. Al Barch, Phil Eddy and I will have a wrap-up of wrestling activities in the next issue following the team’s first home meet Saturday at 7:00 p.m. against I-State.

Swim Team Makes Splash

By MARILYN HASCHE

Led by captains Brad Lavelle, Bruce McMillin, and Dave Haunten, the Ursinus men’s swim team will begin their season in the M.A.C. title, having Las Vegas with Mr. Davidon operating on a club basis for the past two seasons.

This year’s team is young. Junior captain Bruce McMillin and junior swimmer Don Besore are the only two members of the team who are competing for their third season. Rounding out the 21 member team, are junior Mark Heller, sophomore Brad Lavelle, captain Tom Schottler, Bob Ricker, John Crompton, Howie Scharf, Tim Bell and Owen Keith Dager, freshman Scott Hensron, Brian McMillin, Tom Phillips, Brian Speier, Gary Larkors, Jim O’Day, Rocco, and Rona Skinner; and transfers diver chip Weisell from Bucknell, Irving Gill from Widener, and captain Dave Haunten from Drexel.

The team hopes for a winning season. Plus several members hope for College Division nationals in March.

The team’s first meet was against Ubuntu in the opponent’s pool. However the team rebounded beating Marist College in a swimming activities in the next issue following the team’s first home meet Sat-
