10-12-1972

The Ursinus Weekly, October 12, 1972

Charles Chambers
Ursinus College

David Kirk Zimmerman
Ursinus College

Gary Griffith
Ursinus College

Carol Abbott
Ursinus College

Richard Whaley
Ursinus College

See next page for additional authors

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
Chambers, Charles; Zimmerman, David Kirk; Griffith, Gary; Abbott, Carol; Whaley, Richard; Fitzgerald, Cynthia; Cochran, James; Frye, Nancy; McAviney, Don; Vietri, Robert; Connell, Ruthann; and Hart, Richard, "The Ursinus Weekly, October 12, 1972" (1972). Ursinus Weekly Newspaper. 87.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/87
Authors

This book is available at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/87
Freshman Voters Elect Leaders

By GARY GRIFFITH

Ursinus College will dedicate its new gymnasium and new dormitory complex at 11:30 a.m. Sat-day, October 21. Former United States Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black will be the guest speaker.

From 10:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., the gymnasium will be dedicated to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heiffler of South Norristown, and on the dormitory will be named in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bish-er of Norristown.

This is the first formal dedication of the new facility. Mr. and Mrs. Black are the parents of Mr. David Black, a senior in the college. The dedication will be a public affair, and all students, faculty members, alumni, friends and guests are invited to attend.

It is expected that a large number of students and friends will attend the dedication. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the gymnasium. The dedication will be a public event, and all are welcome.

The new dormitory will be named in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bisher of Norristown.

This is the first formal dedication of the new facility. Mr. and Mrs. Black are the parents of Mr. David Black, a senior in the college. The dedication will be a public affair, and all students, faculty members, alumni, friends and guests are invited to attend.

It is expected that a large number of students and friends will attend the dedication. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the gymnasium. The dedication will be a public event, and all are welcome.

The new dormitory will be named in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bisher of Norristown.

This is the first formal dedication of the new facility. Mr. and Mrs. Black are the parents of Mr. David Black, a senior in the college. The dedication will be a public affair, and all students, faculty members, alumni, friends and guests are invited to attend.

It is expected that a large number of students and friends will attend the dedication. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the gymnasium. The dedication will be a public event, and all are welcome.

The new dormitory will be named in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bisher of Norristown.

This is the first formal dedication of the new facility. Mr. and Mrs. Black are the parents of Mr. David Black, a senior in the college. The dedication will be a public affair, and all students, faculty members, alumni, friends and guests are invited to attend.

It is expected that a large number of students and friends will attend the dedication. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the gymnasium. The dedication will be a public event, and all are welcome.

The new dormitory will be named in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bisher of Norristown.

This is the first formal dedication of the new facility. Mr. and Mrs. Black are the parents of Mr. David Black, a senior in the college. The dedication will be a public affair, and all students, faculty members, alumni, friends and guests are invited to attend.

It is expected that a large number of students and friends will attend the dedication. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the gymnasium. The dedication will be a public event, and all are welcome.

The new dormitory will be named in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bisher of Norristown.

This is the first formal dedication of the new facility. Mr. and Mrs. Black are the parents of Mr. David Black, a senior in the college. The dedication will be a public affair, and all students, faculty members, alumni, friends and guests are invited to attend.

It is expected that a large number of students and friends will attend the dedication. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the gymnasium. The dedication will be a public event, and all are welcome.

Student From Sri Lanka Speaks to Socratic Club

By RICHARD WHALEY

The Socratic Club, an organization for those students who are interested in philosophy, had its first meeting on October fifth in the Parent's Lounge. The speaker was Nenas Kadergamar, a member of the club and an Ursinus student from Ceylon. He directed a discussion and showed slides on sociological, religious and philosophical aspects of life in his home country.

Ceylon is that large island off the coast of India, for those of you who may have forgotten. This green agricultural country has a variety of cultures, beliefs and people, and the populations still practice the traditions of their ancestors.

The ancestral name of Ceylon, Schalkia, has just been adopted as the official name for the island. Ceylon is an Arabic name adopted by the Portuguese, who took the island over, and it was used by the Dutch and then by the English successors to the Portuguese.

The Ceylonese, who still live traditionally, practice the traditions of their island. They live on a basic diet of rice, as most Asian countries do, and like many Asian countries, their population has tripled in the last 25 years. Another problem is that there are two spoken languages on the island: Tamil and Sinhalese. Ninety-six percent of the people speak Sinhalese, the official language of Ceylon, while only four percent of the population speaks Tamil, Nenas' mother tongue.

Ceylon has many of Asia's strengths and weaknesses. The east system brought to Ceylon by Hindostan, is similar to India's. Snake charmers and hermit beggars that one usually associates with India are native to Ceylon as well. Large families, and strong family ties are basic to much of the Ceylonese tradition and may help create a culture more stable than in the West. A typical Ceylonese is goal-oriented, and tends to think of himself as a member of a formally structured family and not as an independent, self-reliant individual. Yet, a large family may help create a culture more stable than in the West. A typical Ceylonese is goal-oriented, and tends to think of himself as a member of a family and not as an independent, self-reliant individual. Yet, a large family may help create a culture more stable than in the West.

Mr. Whaley

PAGE TWO

Editorial

The Weekly Wants You!

Chuck Chambers

WANTED: IMAGINATIVE TALENTED WRITERS

Appalling bad taste, yes, but we wanted your attention. Dear Reader, and judging by the response to the last recruiting campaign, this is the only way to get it our personal bashing you over the head. Rather than to do that we are bowing in homage (and shattering Mr. Boy's camera) with prints of the above picture.

The facts in brief are these. The Weekly has this year, we think, a good skeleton staff which could use a bit of fleshing out. And since part of the senior staff will be (hopefully) graduated this coming June, the paper particularly needs experienced underclassmen for the following fall; so we would like to see juniors, seniors, sophomores, and freshmen at the next Weekly assignment meeting. These assignment meetings are held every Monday night at seven-fifteen p.m. in room 306 of the Administration Building. For those who would like to learn about the technical side of journalism, we hold a layout meeting each Sunday night after dinner in the same place. If for some reason you cannot get to a meeting, simply drop a note in the interoffice mail addressed to The Weekly, Administration Building, box number three or contact the recruiter pictured above.

This announcement has been placed here especially for those readers who remain unhappy with the Weekly; they should think of this as an opportunity, indeed a challenge, to try to correct what they think is lacking in their paper. And if these few unhappy souls do not take advantage of this change to join the paper and yet continue to complain about the 'rotten' Weekly; then they not only will be hypocrites but will be receiving a paper infinitely better than they deserve.

As for the rest of you silent but happy souls out there, may we suggest that you make yourselves even happier by helping to create a richer and more enjoyable Weekly—The Weekly this year and are excited, disappointed, or indifferent, what you are actually seeing is as much a reflection of yourself—good, bad or indifferent—as the newspaper is a reflection upon the Weekly staff, which after all, is only a fully integrated part of the whole Ursinus student body. So—why not join the Weekly—help improve your image!

MESSIAH

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5)

Published in the Ursinus, Collegeville, Pa. 19426. Seventy-second year of publication.
ProTheatre Presents
Albee’s “American Dream”

BY JAMES COCHRAN

I have really never appreciated Albee’s American Dream. I have read it and re-Adapted the reference and to pronouncement with sex has always been a problem for me. I have noticed that it oftentimes distorts his plays and seems to distract from his major themes. So, you can imagine how surprised we were when the ProTheatre lively and effectively presented The American Dream. Dr. Henry did a superb job of casting the play and the setting only served to enhance the point that should receive priority here (and it really doesn’t because in conversation suppression it is that affair). Henry is a master at making us believe. Mommy runs into the chairman of her social club and is convinced that there is an inappropriateness between blue and white. She returns from the store with the blue sheets that Daddy feels do not match. She dresses to please her friends and society. Social inappropriateness fills the play as the characters unravel the scenes of their family. Henry has had an operation and no longer desires Mommy. Grandma (Marylhaven Brown) tells us that twenty years ago Mommy and Daddy bought a baby because they could not have one for themselves. Further, he has been told by Mommy that he is no longer allowed to cast for his play.

After receiving his B.A. from North Texas State, it was to travel. Thus, he worked for Pan American World Airways. He then returned to school to work for his Masters degree. He was told by Dr. Meduck, an emeritus professor at Montclair State College, that he could not stand the thought of going back to Mexico to live. “I hate the thought of being a great expense of other people.” Yet, his wife stood by him, and he moved there. Hence, he was forced to begin to work for his Masters for which he was entitled.

Within the first few moments of the play, we are made aware of the audience and the setting only serves to enhance the point that should receive priority here (and it really doesn’t because in conversation suppression it is that affair). Henry is a master at making us believe. Mommy runs into the chairman of her social club and is convinced that there is an inappropriateness between blue and white. She returns from the store with the blue sheets that Daddy feels do not match. She dresses to please her friends and society. Social inappropriateness fills the play as the characters unravel the scenes of their family. Henry has had an operation and no longer desires Mommy. Grandma (Marylhaven Brown) tells us that twenty years ago Mommy and Daddy bought a baby because they could not have one for themselves. Further, he has been told by Mommy that he is no longer allowed to cast for his play.

After receiving his B.A. from North Texas State, it was to travel. Thus, he worked for Pan American World Airways. He then returned to school to work for his Masters degree. He was told by Dr. Meduck, an emeritus professor at Montclair State College, that he could not stand the thought of going back to Mexico to live. “I hate the thought of being a great expense of other people.” Yet, his wife stood by him, and he moved there. Hence, he was forced to begin to work for his Masters for which he was entitled.

The real purpose of Grandma is to typify the deteriorating American society. Grandma’s superfluity and the way people must endure. She does all the housework and grocery shopping while Mommy gives orders. Mommy scolds her for reading her the study of French. He can’t stay up to par, not even with all the help she has. Grandma is a social critic: an unjust and a blind one.

Mommy’s book collection and for obtaining society’s false mores and standards. She enters and excellent (to correct a statement that was in error. The alert observer cannot help but notice (or in this case feel) the confusion and and too everything within the broken down bathroom. Grandma is breaking down and somewhere in the small apartment; Daddy see no reason for old people to travel. Thus, he worked for Pan American World Airways. He then returned to school to work for his Masters degree. He was told by Dr. Meduck, an emeritus professor at Montclair State College, that he could not stand the thought of going back to Mexico to live. “I hate the thought of being a great expense of other people.” Yet, his wife stood by him, and he moved there. Hence, he was forced to begin to work for his Masters for which he was entitled.

Thus far Albee’s observations may have really never appreciated Albee’s American Dream. I have read it and re-Adapted the reference and to pronouncement with sex has always been a problem for me. I have noticed that it oftentimes distorts his plays and seems to distract from his major themes. So, you can imagine how surprised we were when the ProTheatre lively and effectively presented The American Dream. Dr. Henry did a superb job of casting the play and the setting only served to enhance the point that should receive priority here (and it really doesn’t because in conversation suppression it is that affair). Henry is a master at making us believe. Mommy runs into the chairman of her social club and is convinced that there is an inappropriateness between blue and white. She returns from the store with the blue sheets that Daddy feels do not match. She dresses to please her friends and society. Social inappropriateness fills the play as the characters unravel the scenes of their family. Henry has had an operation and no longer desires Mommy. Grandma (Marylhaven Brown) tells us that twenty years ago Mommy and Daddy bought a baby because they could not have one for themselves. Further, he has been told by Mommy that he is no longer allowed to cast for his play.

After receiving his B.A. from North Texas State, it was to travel. Thus, he worked for Pan American World Airways. He then returned to school to work for his Masters degree. He was told by Dr. Meduck, an emeritus professor at Montclair State College, that he could not stand the thought of going back to Mexico to live. “I hate the thought of being a great expense of other people.” Yet, his wife stood by him, and he moved there. Hence, he was forced to begin to work for his Masters for which he was entitled.

The real purpose of Grandma is to typify the deteriorating American society. Grandma’s superfluity and the way people must endure. She does all the housework and grocery shopping while Mommy gives orders. Mommy scolds her for reading her the study of French. He can’t stay up to par, not even with all the help she has. Grandma is a social critic: an unjust and a blind one.

Mommy’s book collection and for obtaining society’s false mores and standards. She enters and excellent (to correct a statement that was in error. The alert observer cannot help but notice (or in this case feel) the confusion and and too everything within the broken down bathroom. Grandma is breaking down and somewhere in the small apartment; Daddy see no reason for old people to travel. Thus, he worked for Pan American World Airways. He then returned to school to work for his Masters degree. He was told by Dr. Meduck, an emeritus professor at Montclair State College, that he could not stand the thought of going back to Mexico to live. “I hate the thought of being a great expense of other people.” Yet, his wife stood by him, and he moved there. Hence, he was forced to begin to work for his Masters for which he was entitled.

Thus far Albee’s observations may have really never appreciated Albee’s American Dream. I have read it and re-Adapted the reference and to pronouncement with sex has always been a problem for me. I have noticed that it oftentimes distorts his plays and seems to distract from his major themes. So, you can imagine how surprised we were when the ProTheatre lively and effectively presented The American Dream. Dr. Henry did a superb job of casting the play and the setting only served to enhance the point that should receive priority here (and it really doesn’t because in conversation suppression it is that affair). Henry is a master at making us believe. Mommy runs into the chairman of her social club and is convinced that there is an inappropriateness between blue and white. She returns from the store with the blue sheets that Daddy feels do not match. She dresses to please her friends and society. Social inappropriateness fills the play as the characters unravel the scenes of their family. Henry has had an operation and no longer desires Mommy. Grandma (Marylhaven Brown) tells us that twenty years ago Mommy and Daddy bought a baby because they could not have one for themselves. Further, he has been told by Mommy that he is no longer allowed to cast for his play.

After receiving his B.A. from North Texas State, it was to travel. Thus, he worked for Pan American World Airways. He then returned to school to work for his Masters degree. He was told by Dr. Meduck, an emeritus professor at Montclair State College, that he could not stand the thought of going back to Mexico to live. “I hate the thought of being a great expense of other people.” Yet, his wife stood by him, and he moved there. Hence, he was forced to begin to work for his Masters for which he was entitled.
Bear Gridders Win First

By DON MACKNEY

The Ursinus football team put everything together for the first time this season before a Parent's Day crowd, routing the Lebanon Valley College team, 37-0, and giving the Ursinus Harriers their first win of the season.

The game was the opening event of Ursinus' annual Homecoming festivities.

The Harriers opened their first meet this season to the DelVal Aggies on Sept. 30 and ending their 8-0 streak, the men of the Amish country as usual strong race, a double dual meet to be held on Oct. 14 in Wilkes-Barre.

Kilt Klad's Comment: Aggressive Play Leads To Victory At Goucher Games

By RUTHANNE CONNELL

Last weekend, October 6 and 7, the Ursinus women's soccer team went to Goucher, Maryland, to play in an invitational tournament. Our U.C. Ladies were first placed against the Wilson College, Harvy Watson and Janet Grubbs scored one goal each to give the Bears their first victory of the season. In the second match, Missy Hubner and Janet Grubbs put the ball in the cage for the Red, Gold, Black, and Blue. After a good night's sleep (right Linda and Jill) Ursinus came up against the team from William and Mary. And needless to say, our girls upheld another victory, 2-1, with our fighting freshman Karle Poley and Melissa Magee scoring the goals. The final game of the tournament was against the host team, The Bearcats ended in a bang, recording a decisive win, 4-1, over Goucher. Shooting backhand and backhand of those two exciting attacks with two goals while a good defense by Janet Grubbs chimed in one tally each. The tournament was an excellent chance for those U.C. American's foreign efforts to work together in competition.

The forwards played well together and were extremely aggresssive and were able to score several goals in the four games. Defensively, our halfbacks and fullbacks were superb and continued to supply the forwards with plenty of room to attack. Ursinus was impressive throughout the tournament. Claudia was filling in for our goalie, Carol Baker, who was away playing hockey in Canada with the U.S. hockey team.

Manning Takes Helm; Aggression Made Key

By RICK HART

The 1972 season will undoubtedly stand out as a landmark in the history of Ursinus women's soccer team. For the first time the soccer team is under the direction of a women's head coach. Dr. Donald Baker, former head of the classics department, who initiated the formation of intercollegiate soccer in 1952, has retired. He has been replaced by Dr. Walter Manning, Officially this is Manning's first year as a women's head coach. In actually being filled that position has made the assistant coach. The genius of this coaching change becomes evident only when one understands the different attitude of women. It is true that both Baker and Manning are common—most obviously a love of soccer. They both obtained the skills that have made the Baker did so at Haverford College. At this point the similarities end. The forwards played well together and were extremely aggressive and were able to score several goals in the four games. Defensively, our halfbacks and fullbacks were superb and continued to supply the forwards with plenty of room to attack. Ursinus was impressive throughout the tournament. Claudia was filling in for our goalie, Carol Baker, who was away playing hockey in Canada with the U.S. hockey team.

Manning explained that the reason for the change was to give the Bears a fighting chance to break into our players, tenacity, and dedication. Manning has been a player for three years as a professional soccer player and has played with the United States National team. He pointed out another difference between himself and his predecessor, Claudia. Manning is a much more powerful figure on the field. I get quite a few.

Baker is remembered for his zeal and dedication. Manning, on the other hand, is more of a fighting machine at 5 victories and ending their 8-0 streak, the men of the Amish country as usual strong race, a double dual meet to be held on Oct. 14 in Wilkes-Barre.